ILLNESS OF MRS. M'KINLEY

Causes an Unexpected Change In Itinerary of the President.

ARRIVED IN SAN FRANCISCO

Secretary Cortelyou and Dr. Rixey Say That Her Condition Is Not Considered Serious.

San Francisco May 12—The sudden illness of Mrs McKinley has caused an unexpected change in the itinerary of President McKinley. He arrived in this city quietly this afternoon several hours ahead of the time scheduled. The state of Mrs McKinley's health was such this morning that the president decided to leave Delmonte and bring his wife to this city immediately to the home of Henry T Scott where she could have complete rest for a few days and where specialists could be consulted if necessary. A special of two cars and locomotive was made up from the president's special and at [illegible] the president, Mrs McKinley, Miss Barber the president's niece, Secretary Cortelyou and wife, Dr Rixey and Mr H T Scott and wife left Delmonte for San Francisco leaving the remainder of the party at Delmonte. Only a few hundred people greeted the president upon his arrival in this city. His coming was not generally known and only those who chanced to see the bulletins posted by the newspapers announcing that the president would reach the city at 4 p m awaited his train.

When the train consisting of a baggage car and the president's special coach stopped at Valencia street Mrs McKinley was carried in a steamer chair by two colored porters from the private car to a closed carriage in waiting. She was heavily veiled and the president and Dr Rixey followed close behind. Mrs McKinley was gently placed in the carriage and the president and Dr Rixey took seats in the same vehicle. The president was quite pale and looked serious. The rest of the party followed in carriages. Mr and Mrs Scott had arrived at their residence ahead of the president and were waiting to receive their distinguished guests. Mrs. McKinley was again lifted out of the carriage and placed in an invalid chair and carried into the house. Secretary Cortelyou when questioned concerning Mrs McKinley's condition stated that there was nothing alarming in her present indisposition and that perfect quiet and rest for a few days would restore her to her usual health. It was the impression however of those who saw Mrs McKinley that she is very ill and that her present state may result in an entire change of the president's programme.

Should his wife's health improve the president will carry out his intention to attend the celebration at San Jose tomorrow. If however her condition tomorrow is no better than today the president will not leave his wife's side but will allow the cabinet officers and others of his party to represent him at San Jose.

At 6 o'clock tonight Dr Rixey made the following statement:

Mrs McKinley stood the trip from Delmonte much better than I expected. Her condition is not serious. She will stay here at least a week and have perfect rest. I think by that time she will be able to continue the journey. She has been gaining strength all afternoon.

San Francisco May 12—At [illegible] 30 o'clock tonight Secretary Cortelyou gave the following bulletin to the Associated Press:

Mrs McKinley stood the trip from Monterey extremely well and is resting comfortably at Mr Scott's. Her attack of indigestion it is believed will yield promptly to rest and remedies while the bone felon on her hand is healing nicely. Dr Hirschfelder of San Francisco is in consultation with Dr Rixey.

It will not be determined until 9 a m tomorrow whether President McKinley will go to San Jose or remain in this city. His programme for the day will be contingent on the condition of Mrs McKinley at that hour.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY HAS HAD TO ALTER HIS PLANS

Delmonte Cal May 12—Owing to the state of Mrs McKinley's health the president and Mrs McKinley accompanied by Dr Rixey and Miss Barber the president's niece left for San Francisco at 11 30 today on a special train consisting of a locomotive and the common baggage and smoker Atlantic and the private car Olympia. The entire equipment was made up from the presidential train. The run will be made in three and one half hours.

They will go to the residence of Henry Scott there and it is hoped the complete rest will have a beneficial effect upon Mrs McKinley. Her condition is said not to be alarming but she is worn out by her long journey and it was considered wise to take her to San Francisco where she could have proper nursing and where specialists could be consulted if necessary. The programme for the party between here and San Francisco will be carried out as planned. The president expects to rejoin the party tomorrow.

The condition of Mrs. McKinley cast a shadow upon the other members of the party who remained here and there was talk at first of abandoning the entire schedule between here and San Francisco but Mrs McKinley especially requested that the plans of the party should not be disarranged by her and when the president left this morning the understanding was that the itinerary as originally fixed should be carried out. The president has himself said that he would rejoin the party as soon as Mrs. McKinley was made comfortable.

The party is scheduled to leave here tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and after a 10 minutes stop at Pajaro to go to Santa Cruz for a glimpse of the big trees. It was not the expectation of the president that he could be at either of these places but he thought he could meet the party at San Jose where great preparations have been made to receive him and where the programme was for the party to spend the night. In that case he could enter San Francisco Tuesday afternoon as originally contemplated without disarranging the plans for the ovation arranged for him there.

It is possible that Mrs. McKinley's condition if it does not improve as rapidly as hoped may necessitate a curtailment of the programme in San Francisco and for the remainder of the trip.

The day after leaving New Orleans a bone felon appeared upon Mrs McKinley's finger. Her hand became swollen gave her considerable pain and produced fever which prevented her from sleeping. Dr Rixey lanced the felon twice and gave her some relief in that way.

Mrs McKinley bore it all very bravely and urged continually that the programme at the cities and towns en route should not be modified in any particular on her account. It was hoped that the rest here would do her good but she slept little last night and this morning although her condition had improved she reluctantly agreed to go to San Francisco at once.

The party got away from the hotel so quietly that many of the guests did not know until evening that the president and Mrs. McKinley had gone.

TURKEY OBJECTS TO THE FOREIGN POSTOFFICES

Washington May 12—Mr Leishman our minister at Constantinople up to this time has not communicated with the state department respecting the trouble at the Turkish capital over the efforts of the porte to suppress the foreign postoffices.

Inquiry here discloses the fact that the United States is one of the few great powers which does not maintain an absolutely independent postal service between Constantinople and the outside world. The others have a system of closed mail pouches by which the mails are not permitted to pass through Turkish hands while in transit between the border and the embassies at Constantinople.

The British government has a fine postoffice building not far from its embassy and Austria and France also have suitable postal establishments in Constantinople. These were established originally not so much from a lack of confidence in the integrity of the Turkish government as from the very inferior character of the Turkish postal service several years ago.

It is possible for any foreign citizen resident in Constantinople to receive his mail directly upon application to the postoffice at his embassy. The privilege is not limited to embassy attaches or official mail and this fact has long been a matter of discontent to the Turks who having sought to improve their own postal service by placing it under the direction of German experts feel that they have a right to get rid of these foreign offices which they claim facilitate smuggling.

The United States government not having a postoffice of its own has always made use of the facilities of the French Austrian and British post offices.

MACHINISTS EXPECTED TO STRIKE THIS MONTH

Washington May 12—A general strike involving directly 50 000 machinists and indirectly 500 000 men in the metal working trades is expected to take place on May 20 unless some arrangement is effected in the meantime. This is the statement made tonight by President James O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists who has his headquarters in this city. The demands of the men the refusal of which threatens to precipitate the strike Mr O'Connell said are for a working day of nine hours and an increase of 12½ per cent in wages or in words ten hours pay for nine hours work. The matter he said has been under consideration for some time and everything has been made by the machinists association to avoid resorting to a strike. Such a step he says is not necessary if the workingmen hope to attain the end they are striving for. Some time ago through the efforts of the International association and the National Trades Metal association the employers of about [illegible] per cent of the men who would be affected by the strike made concessions by which a general work day of nine hours was to become operative on May 20 of this year. The question of an increase of wages however or its equivalent the granting of ten hours pay for nine hours work remained unsettled. Yesterday the representatives of the Metal Trades association and the International Association [illegible] held a conference in New York at which an attempt was made to reach an agreement on the wage matter so that the strike proposed for May 20 could be avoided. Mr O'Connell however says that the employers refused to arbitrate the question of wages nationally but that they expressed a willingness that this matter would be settled by employers locally each individual case to be treated as such. This method is unsatisfactory to the representatives of the machinists association who express the opinion that this would prolong indefinitely the settlement of the question. Upon his return to the city Mr O'Connell promptly prepared the order for the strike and it was sent out by mail today.

Mr O'Connell says that about 200 firms whose employes represent probably 20 per cent of the 500 000 men who will be affected by the proposed strike have signed agreements for the reduction of hours of labor and the increase of pay so that the agitation on the subject already has benefited them materially.

For prudential reasons the executive committee has determined not to apply the strike order to the railroads at this time. Whether it will be done in the future will depend altogether on developments.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

Financiers Meet and Informally Discuss the Situation--Who Has Control?

New York May 12—At the hotels cafes and other places where financiers have gathered during the exciting days of the past week there was today an absence of anything that had the appearance of a formal conference or discussion of the market situation. The men who opposed the Hill Morgan interests in the Northern Pacific struggle were all out of town over Sunday.

The financiers who gathered at the Waldorf Astoria talked informally of Saturday's bank statement and the stock market in general. There were friends of Kuhn Loeb & Co who reiterated the statement that that firm had completed a count of the actual shares in their possession and that they have control of Northern Pacific but this statement was vigorously denied by partisans of the other side.

James J Hill was at the hotel during the day, but efforts to interview him regarding Northern Pacific resulted in non committal answers with the exception that he stated that there had been no change in the situation since yesterday.

The Herald tomorrow will say:

Representatives of Kuhn Loeb & Co say that the stock sold by the arbitrage houses will definitely come to them. These holdings are distributed among the common and preferred issues. Some question may arise due to the retirement of the preferred stock last. Under the terms of issue the preferred stock is retirable upon any first day of January up to 1905 at par. No action has yet been taken upon the preferred stock, which at the present time carries equal voting power with the common. Whether this stock can be ordered retired by the directors prior to the meeting of the company on Oct 1 next is not known. It would seem however as though a matter of this importance would rest with the shareholders of the company, and if such is the case Kuhn Loeb & Co's stock will be in existence on Oct 1 and it will determine not only the question of control but the question of retiring the preferred issue. Persons identified with the Harriman Kuhn Loeb & Co express belief that some resolution will be passed by the directors favoring the retirement of the preferred stock. One of Mr Morgan's partners asked about this replied that he thought nothing of the kind would be done.

LARGEST BRIDGE IN THE WORLD TO BE ERECTED

New York May 12—The World will say tomorrow:

William J Amend, counsel for the North River Bridge Co. and one of its directors yesterday made the definite announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad company is back of the company's scheme to build a bridge from Hoboken to Manhattan. He said that contracts were now being negotiated between the bridge company and the various railroad companies whose traffic will be accommodated by the bridge. As soon as these could be executed he said work on the structure would be commenced. It is estimated that the bridge can be completed within four years.

The bridge is to be only for the transportation of passengers and the plan involves the erection of an enormous terminal bounded by Sixth and Seventh avenues Twenty fourth and Twenty eighth streets.

The bridge will be the largest in the world. There will be 16 tracks for railroad traffic and the strength of the structure will be such that they can be run at full speed. Above them will be trolley tracks driveways bicycle paths and footways. The estimated cost of the bridge with its approaches and the passenger terminal is $80 000 000.

RELIEF WORK IS GOING ON

Jacksonville Association Doing Stupendous Work.

THE MILITIA STILL REMAIN

Baptists of the City Appeal to Their Brethren For Aid in Rebuilding---Colored Labor Problem.

Jacksonville Fla May 12—The relief association is doing stupendous work particularly in the commissary and labor department. There is abundant work for everybody who can do manual labor but difficulty is experienced in getting the colored men to work.

The militia is still in possession of the city and will remain here so long as the committee of the relief association thinks best. The liquor men have approved the action of the governor in closing the barrooms and have indorsed it by resolution.

The electric light plants are in operation and the main streets of the city will be lighted again in the next three or four days.

The Baptists of Jacksonville today issued the following appeal to the Baptists of America:

Dear Brethren: Jacksonville the metropolis and gate city of Florida is in ruins. The great fire of May 3 the greatest that the new south has ever known burned 13 blocks in the most thickly settled portion of the city and destroyed every church and every school building in the city proper.

The First Baptist church with its contents was destroyed. Our pastor and family saved only the clothes on their backs while library and furniture went up in the flames. Scores of our church people are homeless. Many of them destitute and must be helped. A majority of our members lost their business. The well to do have become poor and are unable to assist.

Our church must be rebuilt and to that end we are bending every energy. In our weakness and suffering from the depths of despair we call on all Baptists throughout the country to assist us in rearing a temple to the Lord that His work may be carried on and His name glorified. Please send your contributions to W A Hobson pastor or F F Cleve and chairman board of deacons.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN A SUBURB OF DETROIT

Detroit Mich May 12—Fanned by a 35 mile an hour wind fire this afternoon swept the west bank of the Rouge river in Delray a suburb to the south of Detroit for three quarters of a mile and destroyed over $500 000 worth of property. Following are the losses:

Salliotte & Ferguson lumber mill $[illegible]0 000 covered by insurance. Brownlee & Co's sawmill Salt block and part of their lumber $45 000 insurance $150 000. The Western Union Telegraph Co loss on cedar poles stored in a yard which was swept by the flames about $500 000 insurance unknown. Corken Stickney & Cram loss on dredge which was tied up at dock $[illegible]0 000 insurance unknown. Maltby Lumber Co cedar poles and sawmill $[illegible]0 000 insurance $25 000.

The fire originated shortly after 1 o'clock in the roof of the Salliotte & Ferguson lumber mill. The mill had not been running for several months and was as dry as tinder. The building was soon in ashes and the fire swept across the dock where dredge No 5 was tied up. Despite efforts to save her, this craft was burned to the water's edge. Great embers were picked up by the wind and dropped on the roof of Brownlee & Co's mill and Salt block and both these buildings were destroyed.

Delray has a very small fire department and a call for help was sent to the Detroit department which responded with three engines and the fire boat Battle. Even the great streams of the fire boat were powerless to check the flames which were rolling down the river bank for hundreds of feet. From the Brownlee property the fire jumped over into the large yard which the Western Union Telegraph Co used as a storage point for their cedar telegraph poles. The yard is the distributing point for 20 states and over 100 000 poles were stored there.

The fire swept through the great yard which comprises about eight acres, in less than two hours but the poles blazed until far into the night. The streams from the fire boat Battle were centered on this yard but they had no effect in staying the flames. When darkness fell the glare from the burning poles illuminated the sky for miles. The firemen worked on the fire almost all night but it was only to keep it from spreading to other property for they realized that it would simply have to burn itself out in the Western Union storage yards.

While this fire was burning the lumber yard of G A Rauph & Co in Ecorse about a mile from Delray was set on fire by sparks from a passing engine and 500 000 feet of lumber was destroyed. The loss is about $75 000, covered by insurance.

LONDON ECHOES OF THE NORTHERN PACIFIC CORNER

London May 13—The stock exchange committee has received a petition from the members of the exchange in favor of the delivery of Northern Pacific stock being deferred until the old shares can be dispatched to America and exchanged for new shares or otherwise to make the non voting shares "good delivery." The question will be discussed at today's meeting.

The Standard's financial article says that any extreme measure to force deliveries of the stock would probably be warmly resented by the stock exchange.

The Daily Mail considers that any such arbitrary interference with customs would have more ill effects than good.

The Daily News in its financial article observes:

The penalty of unpopularity and discredit arising from the enforcement of extreme measures, such as are expressly discountenanced in this market will not be readily incurred by the powerful firm concerned even should the railway deal be thereby imperiled.

It is asserted that 1[illegible] 000 pounds was quickly subscribed in Capel Court Saturday in one instance to avert a stoppage by a big operator whose differences amount to 40 000 pounds. Similar efforts are being made in one or two other cases.

PARTY OF MERRYMAKERS INJURED IN COLLISION

New York May 12. Of 26 young people who started from College Point, L I last night on what is locally known as a starlight ride two were carried home this morning dead five are in the hospital four were allowed to leave the hospital after having their wounds dressed and every one of the remainder were more or less bruised. A collision with a trolley car caused the accident. The dead are Michael Schneir and Joseph Pickel.

The merry makers were on their way to a hotel ten miles away where they were to have a dance. They were all in one wagon the bottom of which had been filled with straw. It was almost midnight when they reached Distler's hotel on the edge of Jamaica.

When in front of the house the driver of the wagon tried to cross the tracks of a trolley line in front of an approaching car, but the car struck the rear end of the wagon. The vehicle was demolished. Pickel was hurled into the air and fell 30 feet away his head striking a fire hydrant. Schneir was also thrown into the air and landed head first on the macadam pavement. Both died in a short time.

Miss Mattie De Bovis sustained a severe contusion of the chest and hips and was the worst hurt among the injured. The car itself was badly wrecked but none of the 25 passengers was injured.

The motorman was arrested though claiming to be without blame in the matter.

Cripple Creek Bureau,
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, May 12.—A large number of excursionists from Colorado Springs arrived in the city about noon today over the Short Line, and spent the day visiting points of interest in the district. The day was slightly marred by a heavy rain that fell about 2 o'clock. On the hills a bad snow storm raged and as a result the visitors were treated to a sight of snow capped jewels in the middle of May. The storm soon passed and pleasant weather prevailed for the balance of the day. A large party from the district attended the ball game at Woodland park.

John Gibbons circuit judge of Cook county, Illinois, and one of Chicago's most prominent men, was tonight removed to a Denver hospital suffering with a light attack of pneumonia. Judge Gibbons has been confined to his room in the Collins hotel for several days past with a severe cold. It was necessary to call the ambulance to remove him from the hotel to the depot. He is interested in a mining way in the camp.

FLORENCE

COLORADO F. & I. CO. WILL REOPEN AN OLD MINE

Oil Excitement Continues and Wells Will Go Down in Various Localities.

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, Colo., April 12.—The Colorado Fuel & Iron company is about to open up the old Shaw mine, about two and one half miles above Coal Creek, which has stood idle for the past [illegible] years. Benjamin Beach, formerly pit boss at the Chandler mine, Coal Creek, has been promoted to superintendent of the Shaw mine. He is succeeded at the Candfield mine by John G. Miller. The Shaw mine is badly caved in and in all probability a new opening will be made further up the gulch. Work has been resumed at Candfield after a suspension of three months. The mining will be done by hand until the completion of the work of installing the electric machinery.

All is activity about the camp now and the indications are that the output this year will be greater than ever before.

The electric plant has been placed in the Fremont mine and is working very satisfactorily. By this means the production is greatly enhanced, although fewer men are required to operate the mine.

Intelligence reaches this city from Canon City that the oil craze has struck that town. Surveys have just been completed on a thousand acres of oil land in Garden and Shaw's parks by a company of Canon City citizens, W. J. Williams organizer. Oil indications are exceedingly flattering. If all the prospects are materialized Canon City will be the center of an oil basin with Florence on the west, Shaw and Garden parks on the north and Chandler on the [illegible] of Colorado Springs has commenced drilling for a well for a company in which A. Macon, an attorney of Canon, is a lively interested. The interest at Webster park remains unabated. There are three companies interested in that locality. The land has been surveyed and platted, but owing to some interference in possessing title active work has not yet been commenced.

A thorough oil expert in oil fields has visited that section and pronounced a most favorable opinion of the outlook.

Already the effect experienced by the big well struck by Weaver & Co. last week is very marked. Everybody is talking of oil and the outlook for considerably increased activity within the next month is bright. Companies which filed on ground merely as an investment have realized the fact that they might strike oil, have gotten down to business and are preparing to drill. Had this big gusher like well not been [illegible] to lie dormant for the summer.

What now seems to be a promising field is what is known as Brewster park, about midway between here and Canon City. Canon people have filed on the land and the perfection of the organization of the company has already been made. It is reported that the material for the rig and the drilling [illegible] ordered for.

A number of Pueblo people have been here to see the big well and are more than satisfied with their new land acquirements on Bugg's flat near Pueblo, which ground they have taken up for oil prospecting. They claim that the surface oil indications which exist on their ground are identical with those upon the grounds where the biggest well that was ever struck in Colorado is.

F. A. Andrews, who has been working at the Terrible mine at Ilse, near Silver Cliff, returned here today and reports everything quiet up there. The mill at the place is running only about half time. The property would prove a big paying proposition if the company would only put in the necessary machinery.

Principal P. L. Lord has been appointed one of the institute conductors for this state and will teach in two of the western districts this summer, also giving two lectures on educational subjects.

The Portland cement works are now running at their fullest capacity. Some new additions in the way of machinery have recently been made. The orders however at this time are away ahead of the supply and it is the object of the company to in a short time overcome this difficulty by making more additions in the way of enhancing or enlarging the present capacity. The finished product is considered the finest make in the country and the orders keep piling in from every direction.

It is reported here today that the Troy laundry of Pueblo will in a short time open a branch laundry here.

For sometime past Florence has experienced a brick famine and this fact has greatly retarded the erection of numerous brick structures. But the outlook is brighter, as the business of brickmaking has again been resumed and in a short time there will be plenty of them.

NEWS TOPICS FROM DENVER

Ramsay C. Bogy, the Broker, Returns from the East and Talks of the Market

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver, May 12.—Ramsay C. Bogy, the well known broker and promoter of this city, returned this morning after a trip in the east of several weeks duration.

"It was entirely a pleasure trip," said Mr. Bogy to a Gazette representative, "and I did not do or try to do any business. There is one thing that struck me very forcibly however, and that is [illegible] enough and are not showing anything like their old time activity. The complaint was made to me several times that those interested in our market out here were in some cases not even getting market letters any more and there was in no way being kept posted as to what is going on in Cripple Creek and our great mining camps. Of course we must not expect to attract much business while all this excitement is on over the New York stocks, but that can't go on forever and I feel very cheerful about the future because a big business is certain to follow soon and it will come this way. I heard a great deal about the tremendous excitement in oil stocks, but as a matter of fact there seemed to be very little actual business being done in them, at least it did not come under my notice. The future is all right and we ought to have a big market soon—but we must keep our great mining camps before the public."

ELKS IN OURAY

Ouray, May 12.—A large delegation of Elks arrived from Denver this afternoon, which was met at the depot by the members of the Ouray lodge and a brass band. The Ouray and Denver members will leave here tomorrow noon in a special train for Telluride to institute a lodge of Elks in that city.

A GOOD DAY AT THE EXPOSITION

Buffalo, N. Y., May 12.—The booth in the Manufactures and Liberal Arts building at the Pan American grounds which has caused so much friction between the labor unions and the exposition officials and which threatened to involve all the men employed on the grounds in a general strike was removed today and it is now believed all the carpenters will go to work tomorrow morning. The booth objected to is the only one in any of the buildings manufactured in mills where nonunion men are employed and as this is the only cause of complaint that the union carpenters have, the officials are confident that there will be no more trouble.

The attendance at the grounds today was good, notwithstanding that it rained for about two hours during that part of the day when most of the sightseers visited the exposition. Sacred concerts furnished entertainment for the visitors.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Mrs. Mertie M. Burger Has Been Located in California

STEEL WORKER WAS ROBBED

He Woke Up to Find His Cash and Deposit Certificates Gone

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Pueblo, May 12.—Through a telegram received by District Attorney J. H. Low today Mrs. Mertie M. Burger, Pueblo's missing school teacher, has been located. She is in San Jose, Cala., alive and presumably well. The telegram received by Judge Low came from a close friend in Wymore, Neb., where relatives of the missing woman live. The telegram simply said: "Read a letter from Mr. Burger in California." The Mr. was undoubtedly a mistake and has been challenged by the local operator. The tone of the telegram indicated that sender had seen a letter received by some one else. Judge Low immediately wired the sender for Mrs. Burger's address and also asked, "Is she well?" Back came the answer, "At San Jose, Cala.," this indicating that the letter had been written May [illegible] and that Mrs. Burger had given no address aside from the time. In the meantime a query was sent to Harry Baird of Kensington, brother of the missing woman, and to J. A. Hayes, her brother in law, asking them if they had heard from Mrs. Burger. Baird answered that he had not and queried, "Have you heard anything?" Another telegram was sent to the chief of police at San Jose, followed by another this evening asking him to look up Mrs. Burger and to get a statement from her. Up to an early hour this morning no word had come from her. The finding of Mrs. Burger clears up the greatest mystery that has ever existed in the police annals in Pueblo. On the night of April [illegible] Mrs. Burger, who was a teacher in the primary grade of the Fountain school, vanished from her home at 811 East Fifth street. She was last seen by two children who were playing around the house and at the time she was seated in her parlor reading. Her absence from school the next morning caused her friends to investigate and they found the house deserted. The front door was locked, the back door was also locked and the key was hanging in its usual place on a nail just outside the door. The bed was made up, indicating that Mrs. Burger had not slept in the house that night. All of her clothing was found with the exception of a pair of slippers, a light shawl, a bicycle skirt and a nightgown. The only other possible clew was some scraps of burned letters which were found in an oil stove. The theory of murder was not put forward until the theories of temporary mental abberration and suicide had been exhausted. The fact that the bloodhounds led the officers to the Fountain river at the Eighth street bridge caused many to believe that she had thrown herself into the river, but the stream was dragged for miles both up and down without result. In a short time rumors floated around that Mrs. Burger was in hiding in the city for reasons best known to herself. The rumors were so persistent that they were generally believed by the public and the search for Mrs. Burger was kept up only by a few who still believed her dead. Her brother Baird and brother in law arrived in the city to take part in the search and there was much comment over the fact that they would not offer a reward and that they disposed of all of Mrs. Burger's effects a week after their arrival. Chief of Police Griffin explained today that their failure to put up any money was due to his advice and that personally they had wanted to put up $500.

It is now the theory of the officers that Mrs. Burger was not at any time hid in Pueblo, but that she went direct to La Junta on the night of her disappearance and boarded the California fast express at that point. It is known that she had been planning a trip to California during her vacation, which begins next month, and that she had purchased a large amount of new clothing for the purpose. Why she did not wait until vacation, now such a short time away, and why she maintained so much secrecy over her departure are questions which are puzzling the people of Pueblo. For 12 years Mrs. Burger has taught the youths of Pueblo in the schools and was one of the best known and most highly respected teachers in the country. No breath of suspicion had ever been raised against her character and her friends are loath even now to believe that there was anything wrong with her hasty trip. However it is believed that some one in Pueblo knew or was in some way responsible for her departure, and public indignation runs high because they allowed the people to be deceived as to the probable fate of the teacher and the police allowed to waste time and money in a fruitless search when a hint would have allayed all fears.

Andrew Steffins, a steel worker, woke up this morning to find himself shy $1[illegible] in cash and certificates of deposit representing $[illegible] more. The money was in his trousers pocket and he had placed the trousers under his pillow. He says he was awakened Saturday night by hearing a noise in his room and he saw a man vanishing in the darkness, but he paid little attention to him. A man named Broderick, who roomed with Steffins and who knew something of his affairs, is missing, but [illegible] connect him with the robbery. The certificates of deposit were on the El Paso National and First National banks of Colorado Springs.

The C. F. & I. team played the crack Rocky Ford aggregation on the latter's grounds today and rain stopped the game in the seventh inning with the score at 1 to 1.

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

Last Installment of Woods Mineral Exhibit Sent to Buffalo.

CAMERON BASEBALL TEAM

Rain Stopped the Game of the Gold Coin Juniors and Cripple Creek Team

Victor Bureau
Cripple Creek Bureau

Victor, May 12.—The last of the big mineral exhibit prepared by the Woods Investment company for the Pan American exposition at Buffalo left the city today. [illegible] is an excellent one and will no doubt bring forth many favorable comments from the visitors to the mines building.

The Cameron baseball team, made up of players from all points of the camp but principally of this city, held its first practice today at the Cameron ball park. Captain Paul Haas was in charge of the men. All the candidates are old players and the afternoon was spent in limbering up. C. E. Oatman, an old league catcher, was out and put much spirit into the playing. The team will probably play the team from Gillett at Cameron park next Sunday. The grounds are being put in first class condition.

In a game between the Gold Coin Juniors and the Cripple Creek team but one inning was played. At the end of this inning a heavy rain commenced falling and the players and the many spectators were forced to seek shelter. At that time the score was 5 to 1 in favor of Cripple Creek.

LEADVILLE

RAILROADS AWAKENING TO NECESSITY OF REACHING MINES

History of the Extensions of Roads to Carry the Ever Increasing Mineral Output.

Leadville Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Leadville, May 12.—It is only within the past few years that the railroads have awakened to the great importance of reaching the mines. Prior to the fall of 1898 every pound of ore was shipped by wagon, which cost the miner from 40 cents to $1 a ton. The first extension was made by the Rio Grande to Ibex, three miles distant, then tapping some of the rich gold mines of that section. The Colorado and Southern followed suit with its Mineral belt line over Fryer and Carbonate hills, reaching the large sulphide and iron producers. The Rio Grande then invaded this territory and last summer the Colorado Midland built a branch up California gulch to the iron silver properties. The downtown section was next entered by both the C. and S. and the D. and R. G. The last mine to be reached is the Sixth street shaft and the C. and S. is arranging to build to that property. This is an iron mine owned by the Leadville Tunnel and Drainage Co., which has since 189[illegible] spent $350,000 in sinking its shaft and pumping water. Large bodies of iron ore are exposed that can be shipped to a profit if rail transportation is secured. A portion of this is manganese iron that is sold to the Pueblo Steel works and the Illinois works at a profit to the miner of $3 a ton. When the same iron carries enough silver it is shipped to the lead smelter for flux. In 1900 Leadville miners received $[illegible],000 for their manganese product from the Chicago Steel works.

After treatment charges, royalties, labor, fuel and all other charges against the ore were deducted last month the net profit to the mine companies and individual operators amounted to $3[illegible],000. This is divided among about forty producing properties, some like the Ibex making a large profit and the smaller lessees in proportion. These figures are based on the gross value of the ore, deduction being made of monthly payrolls, fuel bills as shown by the statements of the coal dealers as to the amount of coal sold to the mines, and an average on treatment charges and royalties. All freight charges are paid by the smelter.

It was announced by members of the executive committee of the smelter trust the Union and Bimetallic plants are to be started up [illegible] more smelter men will be given employment, and [illegible] to [illegible] tons of ore per day will be required to keep the [illegible] in blast. The Bimetallic is a pyritic plant, well equipped with modern machinery, and [illegible] have been on for some time to open it and treat the silicious ores of the Ibex, which can easily furnish [illegible] tons a day.

The California Gulch Mining company, which has been operating a tract of ground just south of the city, may be compelled to close down for lack of funds. It has already spent $[illegible],000 in pumping and development, opening up 2,500 feet of drift. There are good indications of ore but the condition of the treasury will not allow the continuance of work. The company is a local organization capitalized at $[illegible],000.

CHURCH CELEBRATION WAS POSTPONED

Frederick, Md., May 12.—The great event of the centennial celebration of the quadrennial conference of the United Brethren church in Christ, which was to have taken place today, that of dedicating the new centennial Memorial church on Second street, erected to perpetuate the memory of Otterbein, Boehm and Newcomer, the founders of the church and its first bishops, was postponed until next Sunday.

The law of the church provides that no church shall be consecrated unless the debt has been paid in full or satisfactorily provided for.

An extensive programme of dedicatory exercises had been arranged for the occasion, the four bishops and the entire congregation had assembled upon the scene and the edifice was crowded with worshipers to witness the ceremonies, but after a hasty consultation the bishops decided to postpone the dedication until next Sunday. However, rather than disappoint the people, the greater portion of the programme [illegible] carried out. [illegible] service was also conducted in the Sunday school room, presided over by Bishop J. S. Mills of Denver.

Services were again held in the opera house tonight. The pulpits of the various Protestant churches of the city were filled by the leading members of the conference today.

CHICAGO ELEVATED RAILWAY MERGER

New York, May 12.—The Times will say tomorrow:

John J. Mitchell and C. L. Blair, who control the elevated railroad systems in Chicago, are at the Waldorf-Astoria. These roads are the Northwestern Elevated, Lake Street Elevated, Metropolitan Elevated, South Side and Union Loop.

Charles T. Yerkes and Dr. H. Louderback, who were largely interested in the roads, are also in town. It is proposed to consolidate the four roads and Mr. Louderback expresses the opinion that such a consolidation will mean a saving of $500,000 a year at least.

While here Messrs. Mitchell and Blair will seek to bring about a reorganization of the Colorado Fuel company. A number of other concerns will, it is said, be taken into the new company.

HUNT FOR GOLD IN SOUTH AMERICA

Chicago, May 12.—A party of [illegible], including civil engineers, machinists, mining experts, assayers and guides, left Chicago tonight for New York, whence they will sail on May 18 for Colombia, South America, in quest of gold along the river Nechi. Already there are four carloads of machinery and tools at New York which will be taken along and used by the party.

The property which is to be explored lies [illegible] miles from Zaragossa on the Magdelina river. It comprises [illegible] acres and was recently acquired by Philip De Block of the Inland Steel company and Louis Benjamin of the Block Pollak Iron company.

UNITED TEXTILE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Boston, May 12.—As a result of the textile workers convention which concluded its sessions at the Quincy house today, 5,000 men and women employed in the textile industries of North America will be members of one great labor organization to be known as the United Textile Workers of America. Representatives of the International Union of Textile Workers and the American Federation of Textile Operatives were present, with James Duncan, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, acting as chairman.

Both organizations decided to amalgamate and apply for a charter under the title named. After that is secured the Mule Spinners union and the Loom Fixers union will affiliate themselves with the organization, which will eventually mean a membership of [illegible] and an amicable understanding between the textile employes in the north and south.

In the past the employes in the south have been members of the International Textile Workers, while the northern operatives have been members of the American Federation of Textile Operatives, and for a long time a union has been sought by the officials of both.

FIENDISH WORK OF ILLINOIS FARMER

Bloomington, Ill., May 12.—On a farm near here today Merritt Chism killed his wife. As she was starting to church in a buggy with the two little daughters of Chism, her step-daughters, a quarrel arose. Chism jumped into the buggy and with a knife cut his wife's face and neck. He then threw her into the road, jumped upon her and stabbed her repeatedly. Her son, Harvey Freeland, aged 1[illegible], struck at Chism with a [illegible], but Chism wrested the [illegible] from the lad and struck his wife three times with it, smashing her skull and dashing her brains out. Then he tried again to stab the woman. Harvey caught the hand in which was the knife. Chism drew the knife through Harvey's hand, almost severing the fingers, and stabbed Harvey in the arm. Chism then fled across the field and tried to drown himself in a well. The water was not deep enough and he climbed out and went to the house of a son, where he tried to kill himself with a revolver. The son prevented this and took Chism to Bloomington, where he gave himself up to the sheriff. Chism is [illegible] years old and one of the wealthiest farmers in the country.

GRAND DUKE WANTS TO VISIT AMERICA

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

St. Petersburg, April 29.—Grand Duke Michael, heir presumptive to the Russian throne, has a keen desire to visit the United States, but whether he will be able to fulfill it depends largely on the course of events, both national and international. In a recent conversation with Ambassador Tower the grand duke expressed a lively hope that he might be enabled to do so. He recalled the two visits paid the United States by the Grand Duke Alexis and declared the latter was greatly impressed not only with what he saw in America but that he had a grateful recollection of American hospitality. Ambassador Tower will go to Glasgow in June as the delegate of the American [illegible] Philosophical society to the 450th anniversary celebration of the Scotch university.

CASE MYSTIFIED THE PHYSICIANS

Detroit, May 12.—Miss Dora McDonald of this city, who apparently died last Friday and whose condition was such that her physician, Dr. George S. Field, refused to pronounce her dead late yesterday, after 20 hours suspended animation, owing to uncertain signs of life about the body, died today after being in a cataleptic state for 93 hours. From the time when it is supposed death took possession of the body there were signs which completely mystified her physicians and others called in for consultation. Early today the watchers were startled to observe a twitching of the muscles of the body, beginning at the neck and continuing to the lower part of the abdomen. It was hoped she would regain consciousness, but the convulsion lasted but a short time. The warmth left the body and unmistakable signs of death appeared. Several hours later Dr. Field pronounced her dead and ascribed the immediate cause to paralysis of the heart.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER

Clinton, Mass., May 12.—Frank G. Kelly of Akron, O., accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Arthur, arrived here today with a requisition from the governor of Ohio for Joe Wade, who is wanted for the alleged murder of Joe Turner at Akron, O., on November 21, 1899.

The officer said he had traveled over 5,000 miles through various states in search of Wade, who was arrested here last week through the medium of his picture and description printed in a Chicago paper. Wade had been here about six months and was employed on one of the Metropolitan water boards contracts. Wade showed great fear when confronted by the Ohio men but said he would return without making trouble. They started for Akron at noon.

The Tennessee Central enterprise is backed by leading St. Louis capitalists and they have selected Mr. Doddridge to take active charge of the entire property, which is rapidly being extended to Nashville and which embraces coal, oil and timber lands in addition to the railroad. The road is already in operation for 60 miles, extending from Harriman Junction to Monterey, and the contracts call for extension of 26 miles. Nashville will be reached in the fall. The St. Louis syndicate has purchased 350,000 acres of coal, mineral and timber lands on the Cumberland plateau and this property will be developed.

RUSSIAN LOAN

St. Petersburg, May 12.—The principal topic in St. Petersburg today was the new loan which M. De Witte, minister of finance, has placed with Paris bankers, the various industries anticipating sufficient railway orders as a result of the arrangement to permit a reopening of the works, many of which have been closed or have been operating on a small scale.

The St. Petersburg Herold thinks that M. Delcasse, the French foreign minister, promised M. De Witte during his recent visit here to secure the French financiers for the loan. It is recalled however that the minister of finance expressed a desire when M. Delcassé arrived in St. Petersburg that the American press should be given to understand that a loan was not involved.

CARDINAL MARTINELLI

Washington, May 12.—Cardinal Martinelli celebrated pontifical high mass today at St. Aloysius church. The edifice was thronged, many Catholic clergymen attending to hear his eminence at his first mass since his elevation to the cardinalate. The cardinal was robed in black, with an almost invisible red border. He wore the red biretta. Count Conacchi, the papal messenger, stood throughout the services arrayed in his brilliant uniform, always close to the cardinal. More than 1,000 electric lights beamed in the church, making the scene one of great beauty.

LONDON STOCK MARKET

London, May 12.—For the last week the attention of the stock market has been so attracted to Americans that little has been done in local. Good business was improved. The close on Americans was firm but below the level of New York. There still exists some uneasiness in foreigners.

The record of the quotation fluctuations during the last week is practically valueless, as they have been so abnormal that they furnish little valuable indication of conditions. Most Americans show an improvement but closed under the best prices of the week.

Foreign securities were cheerful at first. Coppers have been depressed but were strong on balance. Early this week Kaffirs showed well. Values receded later, but on Saturday they improved, rising 3¼. Money is in good supply. Until Monday it was quoted at 2¼ to 2¾. Fixtures were at 3¼ to 3½ and three months bills at 3⅛ to 3¼.

IF CARRIE NATION VISITED THE SPRINGS

Mr William [illegible] of [illegible] national secretary of the American Young People's Christian Temperance Union addressed a large congregation [at] the First Christian church yesterday [illegible] "If [Carrie] Nation [illegible] Colorado Springs Would Her Reception also [illegible]."

Mr [illegible] speaker and held the close attention of his audience from the beginning to the end of his address.

Mr [illegible] told [illegible] [illegible] total abstinence on the basis of [illegible] [illegible] physical [illegible] [illegible] of experiments made by [illegible] Boston [illegible] [illegible] of beer given to each [illegible] [illegible] so affected the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] before taking it.

In Kansas [illegible] Mrs Nation [illegible] in part

I met [illegible] Chicago on January [illegible] Mrs Nation had [illegible] [illegible] had been beaten [illegible] with a broom stick [illegible] [illegible] the address [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] in Des Moines [illegible] Mrs Nation's [illegible] [illegible] impressions considering [illegible]

Mrs [illegible] State Temperance [illegible] [illegible] asked [for] a large [illegible] [illegible] an agreeable surprise [illegible] [illegible] bearing [illegible] of fifty [illegible] black [illegible] a large [illegible] impressive expression.

She could not [illegible] still [illegible] full [illegible] hearty handshake here [illegible] pleasant look [illegible] and stopped to talk [illegible] man.

Mrs Nation has a wonderful [knowledge] of Scripture passages [illegible] Shakespeare quotations are [illegible].

It is not what she says but the [way] she says it apparently [illegible] people.

She is not as some suppose one [illegible] together [illegible] [illegible].

She said to [illegible] number of [illegible] that she hated to [illegible] but that it [illegible] the only [illegible] to arouse the people. [illegible] is therefore [illegible] method in her madness.

After carefully [illegible] her songs [illegible] with her in the jail [illegible] conversing with her friends [illegible] [illegible] received but one general opinion. She is certainly led of the Spirit. But how [illegible] do you account for her violent methods? [illegible] Would the Spirit of God lead her [illegible]? It is a hard question. We may conclude that she has the zeal of God but not according to knowledge. This however [illegible] be [the] last conclusion.

The saloon has no rights under Kansas law. It is a common nuisance [illegible] high only privilege [illegible] abate. She has not been convicted for destroying saloon property and [illegible] the United States supreme court decision reads: No man has an inherent right to sell intoxicating liquors. In another case the supreme court of Indiana decided a saloon to be a common nuisance. This [illegible] broad decision and if confirmed by the United States supreme court Mrs Nation's contention that the saloon has rights under the American Constitution will be legally [illegible]. The result of her work has been to stir up the Kansas people as never before. I find that the facts show that [illegible] are now dry in Kansas than ever before [illegible] of the most important victories having been won in towns of 8,000 or 10,000.

The [illegible] in Topeka in February was something almost beyond belief. One thousand Christian men were organized into 10 military companies that met almost nightly and drilled with their guns. Once a week all met in a central church and drilled under their general who was pastor of the First Methodist church.

Their intention was to have districted the business part of the city giving to each company a certain number of saloons and gambling houses with the understanding that each such place was visited by an armed squad part of whom should carry axes and sledges and at an appointed hour all would strike and if resisted shoot down all opposition.

This show of determination was sufficient for the jointists and they fled the town and most of the liquor and bar fixtures went with them. Topeka is very dry.

The prohibition law in Kansas is better enforced than the license law in Colorado, Missouri, Nebraska or any state. It is a success and it will be increasingly so.

Is it better to have the saloon in Colorado Springs than the drug store? Unquestionably no. One cannot visit Pueblo and stop in Colorado Springs without feeling sure you have a better condition here. There is much liquor sold here however. Much more than [illegible] will stand the test of law. If the prohibitory clause in your deeds were enforced I do not believe there is a single piece of property on which a licensed drug store is doing business but would be forfeited.

I do not need to call your attention to the appalling work of the liquor traffic all over the nation. [illegible] controls politics, bribes judges and juries, corrupts politicians, fills the jails, poorhouses, insane asylums, penitentiaries and cemeteries and proves to be the greatest foe to church and home.

But in spite of this black picture there is a ray of hope. The young people of our nation are becoming aroused.

I call your attention today to the Young People's Christian Temperance union which seeks to unite the [illegible] Christian young people of America in a strong compact organization against the saloon. They are falling in line in many states. We are gathering a total abstainers army of many thousands. When the Christian young people of this land shall have fully awakened to their duty and their power as united against the liquor traffic the saloon power may well tremble. The steady tramp of the army is beginning to be heard. The sound increases and soon will fill the earth. We want the young people of Colorado Springs to enlist.

We have various departments of work. The million vote in which we are seeking to secure a million signatures to the agreement to vote in 1904 for only such candidates for national offices as shall stand upon a platform opposed to the saloon.

The evangelistic department seeks to reclaim the drunkard and to enlist his children and young people in Sunday schools and out in a pledge signing crusade.

We believe the mighty power of song and hence have a chorus department. The literature, the lecture, debate and entertainment and other departments give a field for all lines of [at]tract at reform work. They unite [illegible] [illegible] together as they will [illegible] [illegible] older people. They feel [illegible] [illegible].

[illegible] Chris[tian] [illegible]

Mr Dean addressed [illegible] of several young people's societies at the First M[ethodist] church at [illegible] o'clock.

A large number of [illegible] secured for the local organization [illegible] [illegible] Mr [illegible] Ma[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of Colorado [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] taking [illegible] the temperance pledge.

A [illegible] workers [illegible] will be held in the [illegible] of the First M[ethodist] church tonight at 8 o'clock at which time some [illegible] [illegible] list of officers of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] plans laid for future aggressive work.

All [illegible] interested in practical temperance work are [illegible] [illegible] attend.

OBEDIENT UNTO THE HEAVENLY VISION

Dr Harris H Gregg of Chicago [illegible] [illegible] pulpit of the First Presbyterian church [illegible] [illegible]

Dr [illegible] spoke last evening of obedience unto the Heavenly vision. He [illegible] [illegible]

The Lord has always led His people by a vision. He gave Moses the pattern of the tabernacle and told him [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Christ [illegible] [illegible] Christ and His [illegible] [illegible] Moses [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Moses [illegible] [illegible] the Lord's vision [illegible] to tonight.

When a captive in the great city of Babylon the Lord gave Daniel a vision of the kingdom of Christ destroying all the kingdoms [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] earth [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] His [illegible] [illegible]. Because Daniel [illegible] the Lord he lived obedient to the heavenly vision and the [illegible] [illegible] then life [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for him. The [illegible] of the Babylonian, Persian, Grecian and Roman empires vindicated Daniel's faith and life.

The Lord Jesus Christ [illegible] the heavenly vision. The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of Moses [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] His life. He told [illegible] His enemies that He [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] what things soever He [illegible] these also [illegible] the Son likewise.

After [illegible] to His apostles that the rulers of His nation would kill Him and that He would rise again the third day our Lord took three of them into the mount of transfiguration [illegible] that [illegible] Peter [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of Christ's universal kingdom. Christ's resurrection [illegible] as a pledge of this kingdom. Moses in the transfiguration represented those [illegible] in Christ. Elijah represented those [illegible] [illegible] who will be the Christians living when Christ returns.

When the Jews finally rejected the Holy Spirit's testimony about the death, resurrection and ascension of Christ by the killing of Stephen they were judicially blinded and for these centuries have been scattered among the Gentiles. The vision of the sheet let down from heaven taught Peter that the church was going to [illegible]. While the Jews are scattered among the nations [illegible] [illegible] from among the nations and [illegible] be taken up into heaven as the sheet was. The [illegible] of all Christian work is to fill that sheet.

The Lord Jesus [illegible] revealed Himself for the glory of heaven to Saul of Tarsus a Jew who hated Christ's name. The Lord [illegible] [illegible] and His people are one. The Lord's grace to me is His grace to all the world. His absence and silence is that He is offering salvation to all evildoers. He sent [illegible] as His apostle to gather His church from among the Gentiles. These were the lessons learned by Paul when the Lord Jesus spoke to him on the way to Damascus from the [illegible]. The glory of Jesus in the heavens blinded Paul henceforth to the glory of [illegible]. Paul's life was obedience unto this heavenly vision.

THE MEASURE OF GOD'S BLESSINGS

"The Measure of God's Blessings" was the subject of the pastor's discourse at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church yesterday morning. He took for his text Matthew 9 29 "according to your faith be it unto you." This relates to faith in God. He has no power [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. This is [illegible] [illegible] according to their wishes but is always extended for their [illegible] good [illegible] interests. Men must be [illegible] to obtain the blessings [illegible] [illegible] are used to [illegible] any other [illegible]. We do not expect them [illegible] [illegible] invited [illegible] [illegible] the necessary [illegible] to obtain the [illegible] desired. The [illegible] is proportion to the means. We do not expect to reap a 10 acre crop of [illegible] from a one acre plot of ground. The [illegible] [illegible] be insufficient. Faith is [illegible] [illegible] to obtain blessings [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. This [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] material [illegible] [illegible] those [illegible] [illegible]. It is the [illegible] of faith [illegible].

Great faith [illegible] to lay large plans. This applies to all affairs [illegible] which me have to do. The great enterprises of the world, of the church are carried on because of the faith of those having them in charge. [illegible] also [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this work through faith. [illegible] are to do our work.

DR. HAZLETT DISCUSSED SPIRITUAL ATHLETICS

From the pulpit of the First Methodist Episcopal church (The Strangers Sunday Home) Dr Hazlett addressed his hearers in part as follows: "The highest ideal of the ancient Greek was physical strength. If we desire to enter a Spartan home we have only to announce ourselves with a loud voice [illegible] [illegible] admits us. There is no [illegible] [illegible] infants from within the little [illegible] none of them over seven years of age for all over that age have taken up their home in the city barracks. Sturdy strong and sturdy [illegible] girls are [illegible] their weak or deformed children and surplus sisters have been cast out in their babyhood to perish or become the slaves of whoever might [illegible] them. The mother is here a [illegible] strong [illegible] strong [illegible] whose child [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] fell an enemy at one blow. No [illegible] in Sparta only the strong are permitted to [illegible]. Sparta was a city without walls and when a visiting prince [illegible] [illegible] and said to the Spartan king 'Your city is without walls.' 'No,' said the king, '[illegible] [illegible] the [illegible]' [illegible] the walls of Sparta and at the time appointed reviewed with him the army of stalwart men [illegible] remarked to his visitor 'these are the walls of Sparta and every man a brick.' The [illegible] also gloried in [illegible] prowess and her cavalry [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] clothed in full armor spring [illegible] from the ground to the back of the steed but that [illegible] all before either Greece or Rome had learned that which [illegible] declared when he said 'the mind is the measure of the man.' I do not decry against bodily strength. It is of great importance but I desire to impress upon you the supreme importance of an energy more divine. The moral arena is no less a place for distinguishment than the Coliseum of ancient Rome but as Spartacus trained the gladiators at Capua so must we who would [illegible] the battle against terrific odds be fitly trained. We are to endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ and our exercise must be in godliness for it is that which profiteth most. Our foes are marshaled in three divisions and we are to war against the world, the flesh and the devil. Hamilcar led his son to [illegible] [illegible] eternal enmity to Rome and the wars of Hannibal speak plainly of that hostility that ended only in his death so should we above the altars of our God swear eternal hatred to that power hostile to God and man, never think the battle won nor lay our armor down until at the feet of Jesus our victorious weapons lay. What is your besetting sin? Grapple with it down it or it will down you. Jesus will help if you try. The devil that met the master will not hesitate to attack you. Jesus was tempted to distrust, to presumption, to worldly ambition, idolatry. Have you been tempted along these lines? Be strong in the Lord and the power of his might." Why says Juvenal do you wish for the wealth that ruined Sert[orius] [illegible] [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Demosthenes to be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the best gifts? [illegible] strong.

A FIRM GRASP OF THE SWORD

At the Colorado City Baptist church [illegible] [illegible] his theme. [illegible] in part [illegible] of King David there was one by the name of Eleazar [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] distinction through a [illegible] [illegible] conflict with [illegible] [illegible] surrounded [illegible] [illegible] Eleazar [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] great confidence in his sword knowing that in it [illegible] [illegible] means of defense.

Paul [illegible] refers to the Christian [illegible] soldier whose [illegible] spiritual battle [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] contest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ground [illegible] conversion to the [illegible] [illegible] are not flesh and blood [illegible] [illegible] and powers spiritual wickedness in high places. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Paul refers to the Word of God as the sword of the Spirit and as [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] until it made its print upon his hand and [illegible] after [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the spiritual [illegible] the [illegible] of the spirit [illegible] clinging to the life until it is firmly fixed about his [illegible] and although the surges may roll [illegible] his head [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the very crest of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the spirit [illegible] [illegible] the story [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and doubt [illegible] [illegible] disposition.

The enemy knows the power of the Word of God and his delight is to find a Christian [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] grasp [illegible] the Truth that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Mosaic [illegible] of Moses [illegible] Authorship of the [illegible] [illegible] that material [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Miracles of Christ [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the warrior and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] diabolical [illegible].

[illegible] [illegible] strife the last of the [illegible] [illegible] to loosen our grasp upon the sword of the spirit and requires the principles to hold fast those teachings that [illegible] protect spiritual life. As [illegible] increased in fierceness the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] battle cry the shrieks of the wounded and the prayers of the dying Eleazar's military [illegible] arose and [illegible] a post to the skies.

The secret of his success was the faith he had in the righteousness of his cause [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] his arm and the trustiness of his good sword. If ever there was one who had a right to be [illegible] he is right it is that one who is [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] leave you nor forsake you [illegible] [illegible] If [illegible] had a right to feel at one it is the Christian who is backed up by the promise "The Lord [illegible] thy strength."

If ever one could grasp the sword [illegible] confidence it is the Christian when he realizes that the Word of God is a sharp two edged sword. The marks of the sword grasp [illegible] [illegible] upon his very hand. The [illegible] [illegible] character [illegible] that which he loves best and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in. The Bible should shape and mould [illegible] lives and characters until the very imprint of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] God [illegible] [illegible] known [illegible].

A Word About Framing.

We are willing that you should ask any one of our customers who has ever had a picture framed here what he thinks of it. It is a significant fact that we have never lost a customer in this department.

We started to do framing in a very modest way a year ago; we are now doing the fine framing for the town. A superior grade of work, combined with reasonable prices, did it.

We use French glass; it costs more than the best grade of window glass—But it pleases you, so pays us. Give us a trial.

GERMAN PEOPLE AND GERMAN EMPIRE.

AMERICANS are often puzzled to reconcile most contradictory statements in the news that is cabled to this country from Germany. At one time we might infer that the German nation is actuated by the most progressive and liberal sentiments that it is a nation where civil and intellectual liberty is prized and cultivated and one whose people are in sympathy with the progress of humanity throughout the world. This estimate of the German people agrees closely with our experience of the members of that race who have come to dwell among us and to become fellow citizens of our nation. We find them most desirable immigrants peaceful industrious tolerant of the opinions of others law-abiding patriotic and adapting themselves easily to the institutions of the country in which they have taken up their residence.

With such a nation as this the Americans must naturally feel a genuine sympathy and friendship and it is a fact beyond doubt that next to the British we are more nearly akin to the Germans than to any other race.

But occasionally there comes across the ocean a piece of news that seems utterly out of keeping with our estimate of German character. It may be some military exaction or imposition. It may be some declaration of imperial [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] whether the German mind is built upon the same plan as our own when it can tolerate such pretensions or absurdities. It is to be noted that the things in the German cable letters that usually impress themselves upon the mind of the American as unreasonable are connected in one way or another with the system of government that has been established in that country. And this fact naturally leads to a discussion as to whether the German government is in reality the one best fitted for that people and whether it is likely to remain as the controller and director of the national life.

It is by no means certain that this is the case. Germany has long been a center of intellectual life and of political progress while the experiment of Prussian imperialism is a recent one and its success is not fully demonstrated. German national unity is something that is in full accord with the spirit of the times and the strength of this movement has swept all before it and even now bids fair to enlarge the boundaries of Germany and to include the kindred people of Austria. To this spirit of national union is due very largely the success of the Prussian imperialism that has been fortunate enough to place itself at the head of the German people at a critical period in its history. Prussia was but the instrument of the Hohenzollern and the opportunity to use that instrument most effectively came in the opportunity to give the German people that which it intensely craved a nationalization that placed it almost immediately among the great powers of the world.

But it by no means follows from this that the imperial autocracy that now prevails in Germany is the form of government that is best suited to the needs of the people or that it will continue to remain as the embodiment of German political opinion. On the contrary the contradictions to which reference has been made are the best of evidence that it will not. The liberty loving and free thinking German may be pacified for a time by the gain he has derived from national union he may be dazzled for a time by the splendor of a world power that is making rapid strides in commercial as well as in military affairs but in the end we may be sure that the divine right of kings is not a principle that will commend itself to his mind or receive the indorsement of his vote.

Medievalism is bound to be a losing cause in the country of Luther and of Goethe. The German people must take their rightful place in the front rank of the world's progress and stand in alliance with the other free peoples of the world for the rights of the many as opposed to the privileges of the few.

RAISING THE MAINE.

THE WORK of raising the battleship Maine from the bottom of Havana harbor is now progressing and is being watched with considerable interest. It will be remembered that the destruction of the Maine while by no means the only cause of war against Spain was the event that brought popular sentiment to the point where it became irresistible. If the Maine had not been destroyed it is possible that the war against Spain would not have been fought and Cuba, Puerto Rico and the Philippines might still be under the rule of Madrid.

It would certainly be one of the great contretemps of history if the raising of the Maine should prove that the American battleship was destroyed by an internal explosion. There is not however any probability of such a result. The American court of inquiry made as thorough investigation as was possible and its opinion was a positive one. Further than that if any doubt really existed the present work would not be going on and the United States offers the very best proof of its sincerity and confidence in its own opinion in permitting the hulk to be raised instead of blowing it to pieces at the bottom of the harbor as might easily be done.

There is a chance however that the work of the wreckers may give some more definite clew as to the method by which the destruction was accomplished. It would be a historical point of great value if it could be established whether the Maine was blown up from a passing boat or from a shore station and if the latter its location might indicate in an unmistakable manner whether it was an officer of the Spanish garrison or some individual who for any purpose might have desired to embroil the two nations in war.

Apart from the historical interest the raising of the Maine may serve an important legal purpose. By the terms of the peace treaty the United States has succeeded to all the claims that might have been presented against Spain for losses arising out of the Cuban insurrection. The killing of the men of the Maine was such a loss and already claims have been made against the United States for damage money on this account. For the successful prosecution of such claims it must be established beyond doubt that the Maine was blown up by an outside explosion and further that the explosion was caused by the Spaniards.

It is a queer situation growing out of the war that the United States should now be called upon to pay damages for the death of its own sailors destroyed by Spain but such is the case and the evidence that can only be found in the mud at the bottom of Havana harbor is essential in determining its responsibility to those who suffered by the disaster.

THE FINANCIAL PANIC THEORY.

THERE is a theory held by a good many people that financial panics occur periodically. They are said to be independent of anything that may be done or contemplated in congress and to have no relation to political policies. One ingenious theorist several years ago undertook to demonstrate that there was some connection between financial panics and sun spots but the more general belief appears to be that panics occur periodically without rule as to fixed time except that, by some strange and unaccountable dispensation of fate disastrous panics happen in years of Democratic administrations while Republican administrations are mysteriously fortunate in escaping them.

The history of last week in New York ought to be an eye-opener to the believers in the periodic theory of financial panics though it is probably too much to hope that it will. The materials were present apparently for just such a crash as has frequently turned the course of national prosperity to one of disaster and wrought havoc among the general business interests of the country. But the catastrophe burned itself out among the inner circle of speculators like a roll of paper among damp kindlings. With sound legislation in force and confidence in the future firmly established among the managers of the great industries of the country Wall street was unable to produce a panic even though the conditions for it were favorable in the narrow circle of the stock market.

The lesson is a valuable one and it is to be hoped that it will be remembered when the next opportunity comes for replacing the policy of prosperity by whatever project may next happen to receive the indorsement of an experiment loving Democracy.

It is reported that Aguinaldo will soon be released from custody. The United States authorities have no particular amount of faith in his professions of loyalty but they are convinced that whatever influence he once had among his countrymen has disappeared. His capture was a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] ability of the [illegible] to get them in the [illegible] after his prompt acceptance of the situation by taking the oath of allegiance to the United States was a plain proof either that he had been mistaken or that he had been deceiving his associates and his proclamation advising all rebels to make their peace with the United States was a pretty effectual barrier to future influence as a rebel chief. Aguinaldo will not find it easy to become the leader of a new [illegible] and if he chooses the life of a robber he will doubtless receive the same punishment that would be served out to a less renowned rascal.

FROM THE STATE PRESS

Items of Interest for Gazette Readers From All Parts of the State.

All reports from the orchards point to the fact that if the season continues as favorable as it has thus far been the transportation facilities of the narrow gauge system will be taxed to their utmost limit to carry to market this season's pear crop in this valley. For three years past the yield has been light and in the meantime the trees have been making steady growth so that they are thrifty and strong and in excellent condition and the blossoms promise a phenomenal yield. As the western slope pear is equal in every respect to the far famed California article should our crop this season be as abundant as now seems likely and it is properly packed for the eastern markets it will not only give great financial returns to our growers but it will open up markets that will mean millions of money for us in the future.—(Montrose Press.

The prospects are very good for a busy season in mining in Gunnison county. The camps of Pitkin, Dorchester, Tin Cup, White Pine, Ohio City, Irwin, Gothic, Spencer, Dubois and others are looking unusually well and [illegible] [illegible] work will be [illegible] in [illegible] these districts.—(Gunnison Republican.

The governor [illegible] to sign the bill requiring insurance companies to pay the full value of the policy in case of total destruction by fire. His given his reason that such a law would encourage incendiarism. Since 1893 Nebraska has had exactly such a law on the statute books and it is not claimed there that it works hardship. A new way out of such a claim would be a law requiring the companies to pay real actual losses and in addition to return to the policy holder all premiums ever paid to the company in excess of the amount paid for losses. This would reimburse the insurer and not permit the company to gain by accepting excess premiums on insurance it never intended to pay in case of loss.—(Montrose Enterprise.

The opposition of certain members of congress to the irrigation proposition shows the necessity of a demonstration to the east of the fallacy of the theory that the agricultural products of the irrigated west [illegible] come into serious competition with those of eastern states. In the first [illegible] a complete system of irrigation would result in a general development of all industries agricultural, mining, stock raising, manufacturing etc. and a home market will be at once created [illegible] to [illegible] home production. But again the surplus rather than go east would find a ready outlet in the opening markets of the orient.—(Salida Mail.

Denver appears to be coming to her own again. About ten years ago there was a tremendous booming and real estate boom there—one that went far beyond the natural demand—and there was bound to come a reaction in any event. But the panic of 1893 came on and there was not only a reaction but a complete flattening out. Building entirely ceased and real estate was unsalable at any price. Then followed the long weary years of struggle and [illegible] government both state and municipal and it appeared like Denver would never awaken to the old life and energy. But it has come at last. [illegible] is a [illegible] building are going [illegible] in every direction and [illegible] is booming and it is a pleasure [illegible] [illegible] of the state to visit the capital and see it awake [illegible] with life and energy.—(Boulder News.

Someone with more sense than common said the other day that the real estate men were running [illegible] [illegible] placing too high a value upon their land property and the exorbitant rent that they were charging—and perhaps there is something [illegible] [illegible] impedes progress as to try to be a hog. Because the real estate conditions are improving the property holders are liable to lose their heads [illegible] there is no reason in it and as a result hold their vacant lot and raise weeds on it till he has [illegible] room. The rents are being raised to such a high figure that poor people can live in nothing but shacks. The real estate men should not do it. It don't pay.—(Pueblo Review.

The new capital punishment law in Colorado is now in effect and a murderer after this date may or may not be hung. No one can be hung who is convicted on circumstantial evidence and the jury have a right to say when they convict a man of murder whether he shall be hung or not. In case of a hanging the newspapers must not publish the details of the hanging. This is a peculiar law. If a jury finds that a man is guilty of murder in the first degree what difference does it make as to whether they arrived at such a verdict by circumstantial or direct evidence? Circumstantial evidence is in many cases stronger than positive evidence because in the latter case the evidence may be perjured. In the former case such a strong chain of circumstances may be woven so as to preclude all conclusion except that of guilt. Hereafter the prosecuting attorney will try to get jurors who have no conscientious scruples against hanging and the defendant's attorney will endeavor to have the jury made up of men who are opposed to hanging.—(Golden Globe.

Realizing evidently the futility of attempting to get congress to decide between conflicting views the advocates of national aid to irrigation projects will hold a convention in Colorado Springs next July in order that some definite plan of action may be agreed upon. This is as it should be not only because to secure any action at all from congress there must be an agreement throughout the arid west as to the nature of the demand to be made but it is also advisable to find out what actually is the thing congress should do. If congress should insist upon arrogating to itself control of the entire supply of water available for irrigation as a condition of extending aid to build reservoirs and similar works it might seem advisable not to ask congress for anything whatsoever. For it is undeniable that federal control of all irrigation enterprises might and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] It is in fact very difficult to believe that Uncle Sam would build large works in say Colorado and then admit the right of Colorado people to all the water to the total exclusion of say Kansas. The more the subject is considered the more ticklish it seems to be. It is one about which the west cannot afford to make any mistake.—(Fort Collins Courier.

The chickens in the Arkansas valley are cackling their praise and adding their product to the riches of this most favored section of Colorado. A gentleman interested in chickens states that the farmers in the neighborhood of Nepesta, Fowler and Manzanola marketed 5,400 dozen eggs during March. This means eggs to the amount of $1,0[illegible] in a single month or about $12,000 per year. It is further estimated that only about [illegible] hens are kept on an average to the square mile which is only one tenth of the possibility of the land. When its full capacity is reached the egg production alone will return $1,500,000 per annum to the farmers of the valley and the entire income from the poultry industry will aggregate $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 each year.—(Las Animas Democrat.

Colorado Springs is rapidly developing [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] west. Favored as but few localities are by nature built up on a grand scale by broad minded people stimulated by lavish wealth blessed by the finest climate and grandest scenery in Colorado it naturally grows and grows in both greatness and beauty.—(Denver Searchlight.

[illegible] [illegible] star chamber methods in conducting county [illegible] and school affairs. An itemized statement of receipts and disbursements published quarterly would let in a few rays of light upon public transactions that the taxpayers would be glad to see and know. If such had been done in the past do you believe that Limburger mince meat would have ruled quite so high on the Republican market?—(Trinidad Advertiser.

Europe is jealous; there is no doubt of it. She is jealous of the United States. No wonder, for the giant of the west has been making huge strides toward the ultimate goal of all nations and has outstripped the lesser though older powers of the world even as a passenger train passes the burro of the mountain trail. The trouble with Europe is that she is too slow. She has not the land which we have nor the freedom of birth. She has not the undeveloped resources nor the [illegible] development which we enjoy. She is not in it and that is all that can be said upon the subject.—(Aspen Times.

Thirty years ago and the traveler going from Denver to the Poudre river could not see more than a couple dozen trees on his way. A small bunch of trees at Clear creek a few scattered ones at Big Dry creek and a solitary tree at the crossing on Coal creek, one at Boulder and the St Vrain Big Thompson and Cache la Poudre. On the Little Thompson there was a fringe of trees along the banks of the Dry creek bed. Along the [illegible] of the [illegible] mentioned the landscape had a brown barren and desolate appearance without a [illegible] the verdure of any kind except upon the bottoms of the streams. It is different now. The building of ditches and the distribution of water has made a marked change. The country is dotted with groves, roads and ditches and lined with trees and crops of all kinds covering what was formerly a desert. A comparison of appearance between those early days and now can be best [illegible] by comparing the broad dry prairies and bluffs of eastern Colorado and New Mexico with our own fertile fields.—(Longmont Times.

The appointment of Hon. Earl M Cranston of Denver as United States district attorney for the district of Colorado is a splendid selection and a high compliment to Mr Cranston who is [illegible] deserving of it. Mr Cranston stands well near the head of Denver's brilliant legal lights and in the administration of this important office will do credit to himself, the state he represents and the administration which he is honored by this appointment. Mr Cranston is by no means a stranger to our citizens having visited Garfield county during last state campaigns.—(Glenwood Post.

Our friends the enemy are very much troubled over the appointment of Mr Earl M Cranston for the position of United States district attorney without consultation with them. The oversight is peculiarly unfortunate as they are likely to resent it and continue to criticise the district attorney's office. They should have been consulted. If it were not giving away party secrets I would tell them that Mr Cranston was the choice of the leading Republicans of the state for the place and in naming him the president did just what he was expected to do. Mr Cranston will make a splendid district attorney.—(Denver Times.

It is surprising to note the interest the metropolitan papers take in irrigation in the west and the conservation of the flood waters which run unchecked to the sea. This should lead to an education of the people in correct lines and result in beneficial and needed legislation. That it is more and more the subject of editorial comment in the city journals is a cause of congratulation. The time should not be distant when every irrigation possibility will be utilized to the utmost capacity. An ancient civilization has recorded in our southwest its belief in irrigation and if any one doubts its value let him read the lesson taught by the ruins of great cities and cliff peoples once living where now a desert reigns. Until we equal the record of the past and [illegible] we need in irrigation matters.—(Carbondale Item.

In Denver they tell us that Glenwood is one of the few towns that will be directly benefited by a union of all the roads in the country. It is stated that the whole push will advertise for these great hot springs the year around. If Glenwood will receive any benefit the state will also for the bringing of new people into the state must assist all. If one hundred or a thousand clerks lose their positions in Denver there is plenty of farm land in the state for them to go onto and make nice homes. That will act to the welfare of all, for the more independent citizens we have the better for the state.—(Glenwood Avalanche.

The act restoring capital punishment in modified form again finds a place on our statute books. So much so good. If we cannot have a straightout capital punishment law we will have to content ourselves with what we can get. Under the new act no person can be hanged on circumstantial evidence and where a conviction of murder in the first degree is obtained the jury must further say whether punishment shall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]ing.—(Summit County Journal.

Settling Up the West.

(Pueblo Chieftain.)

Figures giving a summary of the number of second class passengers brought west by the Southern Pacific railroad published this morning are very encouraging. They show additions of more than twenty thousand to the population of the west made by that one road.

The number of homeseekers brought west by the northern roads has been even larger. Several heavy passenger trains—none of them less than eleven cars in length and each fully loaded with men, women and children—left St Paul a few days ago for the Pacific northwest. The whole number leaving that day was [illegible] the [illegible]. These special excursions which [illegible] $20 rate from Chicago to Seattle and $15 from St Paul and Minnesota territory commenced last September and have been continued weekly ever since with the exception of a few weeks in the dead of winter. The great bulk of the settler business has moved westward through St Paul. The total number of people taking advantage of the settlers' rate [illegible] through St Paul is estimated at 65,000.

Many of the travelers are billed to remain [illegible] in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana but beyond that many have to camp and [illegible]. With these it will be hustle for a home at the outset.

These 65,000 people have paid [illegible] into the treasury of the railroads. Passenger earnings of the various lines will probably aggregate $1[illegible]000 from the entire movement.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

The South and the Negro

Colorado Springs Colo May 11 1901

Editor [illegible] Gazette

Sir—In your issue of May 8 I noticed a very able editorial commenting on the reported letter of Congressman Bankhead of Alabama touching upon the much talked of negro question. You say that the Hon Bankhead is one of the stoutest southern Democrats. That he may be physically not intellectually. No doubt though he is considered [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] learned through your valuable paper he has served [illegible] in of the minority in the national house of congress in 1889 and generally a man of his belief especially in Alabama is considered a power by his white constituents politically.

It is not the illiteracy of the negro that the average southerner fears nor his political affiliations. It is his advancement. The negro has not had forty years civilization while the white man has had over 100 years in free America. And when it comes to illiteracy in proportion to number the negro has the southern white [illegible] over a tub. But no matter how illiterate the white man may prove himself to be he is never barred from the exercise of his rights at the ballot box.

The mistake of our southern Democracy is their continually hammering [illegible] the issue. Congressman Blankhead says that if the negro was eliminated from Southern politics many of the best southern white men would vote the Republican ticket. [illegible] well informed American citizen knows without fear of contradiction that since the election of 1876 the negro has been eliminated from politics in the south either constitutionally or by the shot gun policy. For instance I will refer him to Tennessee and Kentucky, North and South Carolina with her red shirts, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi by their constitutional acts. No where else are the whites [illegible] kept from the polls. It is not the negro's affiliation with the party of his choice that [illegible] [illegible] voting the Republican ticket. It is the deep dyed [illegible] hatred that the older generation [illegible] has to against the northern man and his principles and the general advancement of the negro along the industrial and intellectual lines. Congressman Bankhead do you know since the emancipation the negroes have raised for educational purposes over thirteen million dollars? They have farms valued at three hundred and fifty million dollars with personal property worth $15,000,000 and this too with every avenue of intellectual and industrial stream turned toward the mountain of lost hope.

In conclusion I will say that the so called educational and property qualification of the negro's right to vote in the south is a farce and Congressman Blankhead knows it.

Why not be fair and honest and tell the world that they are against the negro simply because he is a negro. All a southern Democrat has to do to secure an election or renomination is to get up in the national congress or a rear in a grog shop and yell [illegible] will never let the negro rule us. Think of it. Less than 11,000,000 ruling [illegible]. Preposterous.

Respectfully
W H Duncan

N EMPIRE TO DEVELOP

soldier's life is good enough for and I am going back to the army as soon as the enlistment papers e made out," so spoke Lieutenant Morison last night at the Alta. Lieutenant Morison is on his from the Philippines to his home altimore, and from there he will ed to Annapolis to take the regu- ilitary examination for enlistment commissioned officer. He joined d volunteer regiment in August, and has been in the Philippines since.

I never saw a jollier, happier and looking lot of men than the Amer- soldiers in the Philippines," he ued enthusiastically. "Camping is fun there. The men don't to suffer the discomforts that our did during the civil war. We are oused in fine substantial quarters, n tents, but in comfortable houses. dier does not suffer so much from eat as from cold, and the hot sea- is very short—from March until . From June to November is the season, and campaigning is then ssible. After November, the her is delightful.

st as soon as the natives really o know us, they will begin to rea- ow lucky they are that Americans came to the islands. An invading is always unpopular. An indus- capture of the islands will subdue finally. As an illustration, let me ou that any man who will erect mill there, no matter what his na- lity may be, would be considered a benefactor. There isn't a saw- on the island. All the boards are by hand, and it takes a man all day to cut a single piece of tim- The forests abound in an almost haustible supply of the finest hard- to be found anywhere in the . Such beautiful wood, too. re are forest tracts of thousands thousands of acres, and the tropi- owth is so rapid that the supply of wood will never be exhausted. Trees attain a gigantic growth in a few years —say eight to ten. One can easily see what the possibilities of this undeveloped resource might become under proper conditions. It is just the same with all other products of the country. The natives get along with just as little as they possibly can. Many of them depend on the wild vegetation—or I might say, the spontaneous growth of fruits that were once cultivated and are now a volunteer product. They make precious little attempt at cultivation. If they can get along without work, they are not apt to exert themselves to get any more than they absolutely need.

"In the mountainous country, the mines have never been touched. Many American prospectors have examined the mines, but no actual developments have yet been made on account of the uncertainties of land titles. The government owns nearly all this land, and the church owns a great deal. Under existing conditions, no man cares to hazard his money on land for which a clear title cannot be obtained. But all this will change soon, and when it does the islands will experience wonderful prosperity. It will come soon, too, for the war is practically over."

Like all military officers, Lieutenant Morison very tactfully declined to express any opinion on the war, further than that it was practically over. He is brimful of enthusiasm for the army and thinks the islands just as good as any place on earth, next to the states. If any one had any doubts as to the salubrity of the islands as a place of residence, a glance at Lieutenant Morison would convince them that there are few, if any, healthier places anywhere. His six feet of brawn and muscle present an ideal picture of health and energy.

Lieutenant Morison is accompanied by his mother, Mrs. C. N. Morison, and his sisters, who went to California to meet him.

The police suspected the two men who had been ordered out of town and immediately sent word to the authorities at Ramah and Limon to be on the lookout for them. Saturday night word was received from the latter place saying that the men wanted had been arrested in Limon and Detective Atkinson left on a late train Saturday night for that place.

The men had left the wheels at Calhan, Colo., but they were secured and returned to their owners. Smith and Anderson are now in the county jail.

LETTER TOOK LONG JOURNEY

Followed Mr. Nichols All Over Europe.

H. H. GRAFTON WROTE IT

It Finally Returned to Manitou Covered With the Postage Stamps of Many Countries.

In these days of strict postal regulations it is very hard to send a letter around the world. At one time this could be done by asking postmasters to forward them on their proper course, but the department has ruled against this, and now it is impossible for it to be done. In view of this fact a letter which has traveled many thousands of miles and which is covered with the postage stamps of many countries is a thing of interest. Such a letter is now in the possession of Mr. E. E. Nichols, Sr., of the Cliff house, Manitou, and was written to him while abroad by Postmaster Grafton of Manitou.

After Mr. Nichols, who was touring Europe together with his wife and daughter, had been gone some time, Mr. Grafton received a letter from him telling of his trip and saying that a letter from Manitou would be gladly received. Mr. Grafton, in due time, wrote a letter to Mr. Nichols and addressed it to Paris, France, according to instructions. It was just a common ordinary letter. It had the correct foreign postage and was addressed plainly.

When the letter arrived in Paris Mr. Nichols had crossed the border into Germany and the letter was forwarded to him. When the letter arrived at its destination Mr. Nichols had "just left" once more and the letter followed him. The letter followed its owner throughout Germany and England, always arriving a few days after Mr. Nichols had gone to some other place. It finally chased him across the Atlantic to New York, from there to Buffalo, Chicago, Washington—in fact all over the east. When Mr. Nichols arrived in Manitou the letter was still following him, arriving some four days later. Mr. Nichols knew nothing of the letter. He thought Mr. Grafton had gone back on him and when he finally received it, it was so covered with postal stamps and addresses that he hesitated about opening it for he could hardly read his name on it. As soon as he read the happenings in Manitou three months ago, he hastened to the postoffice and presented Mr. Grafton with a knife which was purchased in Cologne, Germany. The knife itself is a queer specimen and is unlike our American pocket knives. It is made of aluminum with a picture of the city of Cologne and the cathedral engraved on the handle. Mr. Grafton is proud of the knife and Mr. Nichols would not sell his strange letter.

ADDITIONAL SCHOOL NOTES

WASHINGTON

The entertainment given by Miss McCall's room yesterday afternoon was a success in every particular and was well patronized by the patrons and friends of the school. The entertainment was given for the purpose of swelling the art fund of the school and a neat sum was realized.

The entertainment consisted of songs, recitations and drills, the latter being in costume. A feature was the mother goose drills given by little girls in costume.

A number of other entertainments are being planned by individual rooms and one is being planned by the entire school for some time in the latter part of May. All of these entertainments will help the art fund and the teachers hope that by the time school begins next September the building will have as many works of art as any building in the city.

LINCOLN

The friends of the Lincoln school were much pleased with the entertainment and exhibition given by the school May 3. The entertainment, in the form of a mother goose cantata, was furnished by the first grade. The children entered into the spirit of the rhymes, dear alike to the heart of adult and child, and sang and recited in a manner to please the most exacting mother goose lover.

In the exhibit all the grades were represented. The work shown consisted of cutting, drawing, written work, map drawing, etc., all creditably done and showing signs of care and painstaking. Expressions of surprise were heard on every side that young children could do such good work.

The entertainment was given for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase pictures and statuary for the building.

The cantata was given twice in order to accommodate all who came. At each performance the rooms were filled by the generous patrons, who expressed themselves delighted with the charming and spirited way in which the children performed their parts.

The patrons and the workers in the school were mutually pleased, the former with the evidences of conscientious effort on the part of the teachers, and the latter with the appreciation shown by the parents and friends. Both teachers and pupils are gratified with the result, $55 representing the net proceeds.

HARNESS ORDERED FOR PATROL

The hangers for the harness for the patrol wagon have been ordered and will arrive in a few days. When the new harness is in place it will be one of the finest ever purchased by the city and will add greatly to the appearance of the patrol wagon. The metal parts of the harness have been purchased in Denver as they cannot be made in this city. All of the snaps, buckles and hangers will be made of nickel, while the harness itself will be much lighter than the one now in use. The harness which was purchased for use on the steamer is now being used on the patrol wagon and is very heavy. The weights which hold it up are composed of lead and weigh in the aggregate 200 pounds. The tugs on this harness are much heavier than are necessary for the patrol or the ambulance. The horses are learning fast and now go to their places under the harness without being led.

The stable is not well arranged for the accommodation of the patrol wagon. It is the opinion that a door should be cut through the east wall so the wagon could run into the alley. As it is a small yard has to be passed through first. It is probable, however, that no change will be made until the new city hall is completed, when places will be provided for the wagon and ambulance, as well as the fire department.

ARRESTED FOR BICYCLE THEFT

Detective Atkinson arrested Frank St. Clair on Moreno avenue about [illegible] o'clock Saturday night on a charge of larceny. St. Clair is said to have stolen a wheel from Fred Armstrong of this city and will be given a trial in justice court today. St. Clair is well known to the police of this state, having served a number of terms in jail. He was released from the county jail in this city about a month ago.

On the evening of May 4 Mr. Armstrong lost his wheel and reported it to the police in this city. The wheel was described as being a black "Envoy," model 99, No. 6,265, and was taken from the Exchange alley. A day or two ago St. Clair was seen riding a wheel on the street at Falcon, Colo., and the people of that town, knowing his record, reported the matter to the police. Saturday night Detective Atkinson arrested the man on Moreno avenue and locked him up in the county jail.

MINING IN SONORA, MEXICO

The state of Sonora in the Republic of Mexico is about four hundred miles in length and three hundred miles in its greatest width and is traversed from north to south by the Great Sierra Madre range of mountains from whose hills for centuries [illegible] have been mined.

The state possesses two railways, the Sonora railway, two hundred and sixty-five miles in length and runs from Nogales to Guaymas, and the Torres and Prietas railway, a narrow gauge, twelve miles in length, running from Torres to the great mining camp known as Minas Prietas. At this place are located some of the largest mines in the world, among them being Minas Prietas, La Crestone, La Colorado, Don Ignacio. The Crestone shaft is thirteen hundred feet deep and is equipped with a hoist good for twenty-five hundred feet, also with a compressor that [illegible]. It is operated by a five hundred h. p. Corliss engine. The ore is carried by an Otto tramway to the mills at La Colorado, a mile distant.

The Colorado mill has thirty stamps, nine pans and sixteen frue vanners. After the leaving the mill the tailings are treated by the cyanide process. Close by is the Grand Central, owned [illegible] ing thirty stamps. The statements of the Grand Central show a monthly net profit of $20,000 and the Crestone Colorado company are making a net profit of $1,000,000 each year. The veins in the district are nearly all true fissure, most of them outcropping and capable of being traced for long distances on the surface and running from two feet to fifteen feet in width and [illegible] in the workings. The richest ore is found in bunches or pockets in these veins.

All along the Sonora railway are prosperous mining camps, and many good things are on free ground and subject to denouncement. [illegible] properties [illegible] and beyond the prospect stage can be secured on liberal terms. Passing south of Guaymas, the southern terminus of the Sonora railway, one goes into the Yaqui country, a country rich in mineral resources and practically unprospected by modern methods. Thousands of acres of fertile valley land await the settler soon as the present Indian trouble is settled. The Yaqui river is a fine stream carrying a large volume of water the entire year.

Below the Yaqui comes the Mayo, [illegible] a large stream flowing west and emptying its water into the Gulf of California.

In the extreme southern portion of the state of Sonora is located the city of Alamos, sixty-five miles from Agiabampo, the nearest seaport. The city is also connected to Guaymas by a stage line which runs twice each week. This town contains about twelve thousand people and is in the heart of the scenes of some of the oldest mining operations in the entire republic. The hills near by are covered with ancient workings, and old records which are preserved tell rare tales of the richness of these old mines. Old men of one hundred years of age tell stories that they heard from grandfathers' lips of measuring the gold instead of weighing. Close to Alamos are the La Dura, La Quintera and Minas Nuevas mines, all old mines and all for years turning out large profits.

La Quintera has been in steady operation for one hundred and thirty-four years and was an old mine in those days. The shaft is now twelve hundred feet deep and the vein is very wide and runs as high as seven thousand ounces silver to the ton, the average being three to four hundred. The mine is now in the hands of a French corporation and is being equipped with modern American machinery, among the very recent installations being a wire rope tramway which conveys the ore to the mill a mile distant.

Some ideas of the difficulty these people have encountered and overcome may be had when it is known that the boilers were carried from the end of the wagon road to the mine by men, poles being lashed to the boilers to enable a sufficient number of men to carry the load. For twelve years La Quintera has paid an average profit of $100,000 per annum.

Minas Nuevas is about five miles from Alamos, is a silver and a private property, and a fine one. The shaft is 600 feet deep and it contains stopes 60 feet [illegible] from [illegible]. Hoisting is done by means of a single action rattle trap hoist and a [illegible] hide bucket. Water is elevated by a Cornish pump. The ore is treated by a 10 stamp mill and lixiviation. One year ago they had the frames up for 10 additional stamps and said "We are putting in 10 [illegible]." Two months ago when the mine was visited they said "We are putting in 10 more stamps." It is continually Manana, Manana, and much surprise is expressed at the American desire to do as much today as possible.

Attached to the mine is a fine hacienda and it is a great treat to be a guest at the owner's home.

The [illegible] property [illegible] 10 [illegible] meters and the ore is low grade, averaging about 50 ounces to the ton, but a profitable ore to mine. No accurate figures can be obtained as to the profit, but it is known to be a very profitable property.

Piedra Verde, a copper property of 1,500 pertenencias (a pertenencias being the unit of concession or one claim and described as a solid block of unlimited depth defined above ground by that part of the surface which in horizontal projection gives a square with sides one hundred meters long and bounded underground by the four vertical planes of the same), is working 100 men and shipping about 100 tons each month to San Francisco. The company owning this property here recently offered it for sale at a price of $1,000,000 gold, and Mr. Deidesheimer of San Francisco has within a month examined the property for a California syndicate. Another copper property near by is the Mi[illegible], which has paid from grass roots, [illegible] all ore going to San Francisco. The last shipment of 75 sacks of 50 kilos each returned at the rate of 155 ounces silver, 3 ounces gold, 30 per cent copper and netted the owner nearly $500 profit.

The Fortuna Exploration company, a Cripple Creek company, has been operating a placer for two seasons with good results and are now considering the proposition of putting in a large dredge plant. This company also owns about 12 acres of lode ground, free milling gold, with a vein two to five meters wide and running from $7 to $35 in gold per ton.

The Sonora and Sinaloa Mining and Smelting company, a New York corporation, have extensive holdings and are now installing machinery in two places, each with a 600 foot capacity. They are also planning to erect a 100 ton smelter.

Space forbids mentioning only a few, but it would not do to close without mentioning the Kansas City, Mexican and Orient railway, which is building from Port Stillwell on the west coast to Kansas City. About 45 miles from the harbor is now graded and ready for the steel. The completion of the road means much to Mexico, the development of the country being hastened many years. This road will traverse the richest mineral country in the republic, and mines that cannot ship on account of high transportation charges will become steady producers.

The mining laws of the republic are favorable to any person desiring a concession, and the Gringo stands on a par with the native.

The acquisition of mineral property is in fact easier than in the United States, and when once a title is [illegible], one knows that inside his lines he is monarch. The Mexicans long ago did away with apex rights, an example that we might follow with profit to owners if not to lawyers.

The field is large and rich and American prospectors are welcomed, for the Mexican government knows that with Americans come modern methods and quick development. It will not be long before companies operating in that country will be knocking at the doors of our exchanges for listing, and that means a wonder market for our brokers.

MARKET LETTERS.

BONBRIGHT & CO.'S MARKET LETTER.

Colorado Springs, May 11, 1901.

Wide ranges in prices in some of the stocks characterized the week's trading and in some instances a number of transactions were made. A. J. was the most active of the entire list and scored the greatest decline. Opening at 21 on Saturday morning, this stock declined under persistent selling orders until trades were made at 15 regular and 14½ seller 30 on Tuesday, this decline being almost immediately followed by a recovery to 17. On Wednesday the fluctuation was between 15 and 19, and on Thursday another sharp decline caused shares to change hands at 17½. At the close of today's trading the bid was 16¾ with few shares on the floor. Elkton scored a good gain, advancing from 15 on Saturday to [illegible] on Wednesday and remaining quite firm. On the strength of the reported strike on the property, C. C. Columbia was quite active and advanced from 14½ to [illegible] buyer 30, selling at last mentioned figure on Thursday. Ingham developed considerable strength, selling up to 20½ yesterday when several large blocks changed hands. Isabella declined to 63 yesterday but quickly recovered, selling at 65½ at close of today's trading. In the face of good showings by both Gold Dollar and E. P., these stocks declined, the first mentioned selling down to 17 today and numerous shares of the latter changed hands at 11. Pharmacist was quite active and ranged between 5¾ and [illegible]. Missouri's decline was quite marked, selling from 12¾ Saturday last down to [illegible] yesterday. C. C. & M. advanced to 8¾ today but weakened slightly at the close. Lexington was fairly active and scored a slight advance, selling at 8¼ today.

EDSALL, KEY & CO.'S MARKET LETTER.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 11, 1901.—Inactivity has been the prevailing feature of this week's market. A few of the stocks have fallen slightly, but as a rule the prices of the previous week have been maintained. To offset those that have depreciated we would enumerate Eclipse, Con. Cripple Creek, Columbia, Pharmacist, A. J. and Gold Dollar as among the more favorite [illegible] as the New York city excitement and continued interest in oil have tended to keep the market at a comparative standstill. We do not believe it is going any lower, but it seems to us that the present is an excellent opportunity for investment in reliable Cripple Creek securities.

Coriolanus—A shipment of smelting ore is being saved up, the values being taken from the upraise of the third level. All the men that can be worked are engaged in extracting ore, and in addition to this the drifting is continuing to reach the ore bodies opened in the old North workings. The ore bins are being put in place and every preparation is being made [illegible] able work of mining. Coriolanus is an excellent buy at present market.

Elkton—The station at the seventh level has been reclaimed from the water and the pumps are working very effectively. It is expected that the good work of unwatering the lower levels will continue uninterruptedly until this dreaded hindrance disappears entirely.

JNO. W. PROUDFIT'S MARKET LETTER.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 11, 1901.

Trading has been rather more active during the week, though it has not been so generally distributed as is to be hoped for in the future. The improvement in the water situation in the Elkton mine has continued and the stock has been strong at advanced prices, at one time reaching $1.05 per share, though this advance was not fully held. We do not look for any permanent advance of moment until the dividends are increased, but on any marked decline we think that Elkton is an excellent purchase for investment.

A number of the medium priced stocks, such as Gold Dollar, Alamo, Eclipse, etc., have shown considerable activity. In the case of the first named stock the tendency was toward weakness, but both of the latter were strong.

It is gratifying to be able to record that the crash in New York stocks on Wednesday and Thursday had absolutely no influence on our market. We believe that the mining stock market was never in a stronger position so far as loans and financial accounts are concerned. There has been very little speculation in futures during the past two months, and this of course, while it has decreased the volume of trading, has removed to some extent speculative weakness. There are many inquiries [illegible] from eastern as well as local [illegible] in regard to new commitments, and we look for a decided improvement in the situation within the next 30 days.

STATE MINING

TAYLOR PARK DISTRICT.

One of the biggest strikes ever made in this state was the discovery of a twenty foot vein of graphite near Dorchester in the Taylor Park mining district. The discovery was made in March but has just come to light. The owners of the property on which the big vein of graphite was found were [illegible] would not exchange places with the governor of the state himself. The height and depth of the find is not known, but enough development work has been done to ascertain that an immense body of the [illegible] grade of graphite has been found. [illegible] sent to all the principal [illegible] in the United States to have it tested and it was pronounced everywhere to be the finest grade ever discovered.

The Youngstown Cho[illegible] Works company sent a party of experts to the park to investigate the find and on their favorable report have decided to take hold of the property and develop it as soon as the snow leaves. The present strike is without doubt the largest ever made in the graphite country.—(Aspen Times.)

CAMERON DISTRICT.

What appears to be one of the biggest strikes of ore ever made in the Cameron district has been made in the Hershberger tunnel. Wednesday night the vein had been crosscut for six feet and apparently the other wall was not very near.

The Hershberger tunnel is considered the best tunnel site in the entire district. It is planned to cut all the veins that are known to cross Cameron peak from east to west. The tunnel might be driven into the mountain for thousands of feet, gaining depth rapidly and thoroughly testing the extent and value of the veins that would thus be intersected. The tunnel is being run from Ma[illegible] park southward into the mountain.

Mr. Hershberger has faithfully stuck to the work of running the tunnel, though he has had only limited means at his command. From time to time he has tried to induce local capital to assist in the enterprise but has been unable to accomplish this object and so has slowly toiled away as best he could. It seems that he has reached his reward.

Nothing could be of greater benefit to the camp or more thoroughly test its worth than for this tunnel to be driven in two or three thousand feet, and it is hoped now that this may be done. The present length of the tunnel is only 250 feet and depth at the breast about 150 feet. The values of the ore encountered will be reported in a few days.—(Salida Record.)

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in Colorado Springs.

Scores of Colorado Springs people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such indorsement?

Mr. H. J. Webber of 119 W. Costilla street gives the experience of a boy of eight years of age. He says: "I was not in a position to watch him closely, but from what his mother and aunt who look after him tell me, Doan's Kidney Pills have done him a great amount of good. For three or four years he had symptoms of kidney trouble, complained of his back hurting him and was troubled with urinary weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills have checked this and he does not complain of his back any longer. My wife saw the pills advertised and got a box at Jones & Wellington's drug store. If my statement of this case will be of any use to you I am pleased to give it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

The Most Common Ailment.

More people suffer from rheumatism than from any other ailment. This is wholly unnecessary too, for a cure may be effected at a very small cost. G. W. Wescott, agent D. & H. C. Ry. Co., Meadowdale, N. Y., says: "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for some time and it has caused me much suffering. I concluded to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm and am pleased to say that it has cured me." For sale by all druggists.

There is No Question

but the TORREY TUNNEL will be as great a success as the Newhouse tunnel, for the reason that it passes through as well known district as the Newhouse, besides this it owns the ground for 3,300 feet along the course of the Torrey Tunnel. All this ground is highly mineralized and shows good ore. Newhouse holds no land by title. Newhouse stock is selling at $5 per share.

Work on Torrey Tunnel is now being pushed by Company (three shifts a day).

The treasury reserve will be ample to push all work.

Management capable and reliable.

Capitalization low, half being in the treasury reserve.

For a conservative and profitable investment, we strongly recommend the purchase of the King Edward Mining and Tunnel Company's stock (owners of the Torrey tunnel).

Review of the Schools.

COLLEGE NOTES

An enthusiastic students' mass meeting was held in chapel Monday morning to discuss the closing of Tejon street. A large number of the students expressed their opinions and all [illegible] the closing of the campus. It was discovered from numerous talks that many of the opposing signatures were given because of the impression that pedestrians and bicyclists were also to be debarred. To the correction of this error the students pledged themselves and the members of the different classes also circulated petitions among the [illegible] citizens calling for a closed campus. Dr Shedd distributed drawings of the campus as planned to aid the students in their campaign.

One of the most delightful events of the year was the verdict rendered upon the reception of the Contemporary club held last Wednesday evening in Perkins art rooms. It was the second reception and the young ladies certainly upheld their reputation as hostesses. The guests were received by Miss Ruth Brush 02 acting president of the club and Mrs. Slocum. After everybody had greeted everybody else Miss Brush presented Miss Katherine Oliver an elocutionist of [illegible] who delighted the audience with selections from Ralph Connor's Sky Pilot. After the reading refreshments of ices candies and cakes were served. The Contemporary club was organized just one year ago. Its work is along literary lines and the meetings have proven very helpful to the members.

The present officers are President Miss Grace Loomis 01 vice president Miss Brush 02 secretary Miss Dudley 03 factotum Miss Ferris 04.

The Y W C A girls will give a play Wednesday night in Coburn library for the benefit of the association. The following young ladies will take part Misses Isham Kitely Porter Gilger Dailey Stoddart Steele Albert Smeigh and Campbell.

HIGH SCHOOL

Miss [illegible] class of 98 was at school on Tuesday.

Nannie Armstrong Marjorie Pitman Fred Patrick and Susie Sho[illegible]han have returned to school.

Mr Miller professor of Latin in the University of Chicago visited school on Thursday morning.

The Glee club is improving rapidly and has learned the program which it will give at the concert on June [illegible]. Miss Agnes Dorsey will play a solo the Mandolin club will give three pieces and the Glee club will sing six selections on the night of the concert.

Several places have been looked up for Cadet camp and have been found very favorable. As yet nothing has been decided upon. There was no drill Monday. Extended order was taken up on Wednesday and battalion drill on Friday. The next prize drill will occur on May 25.

The seniors are rejoicing over their victory in the field meet Thursday. They have reason to. They made 62 points, the sophs 31 and juniors 21.

The regular meeting of the Interscholastic Track league was held in Denver on Friday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to arrange the programme for the meet on May 25 in Denver.

Messrs Kern and Anderson of the senior class went to Denver Friday to [illegible] costumes for the class play.

A meeting of the delegates to the Interscholastic league was held Friday at the Elk hotel to make the final arrangements for the state meet which occurs in Denver May 25.

BRISTOL

The school has realized $[illegible] from the entertainments which have been given at the building for the benefit of the art fund of the school. This together with the money which the school board donates makes a considerable sum with which to purchase pictures.

A few of the pictures have been decided upon and have already been ordered from the east through local dealers. The Bath of the Nymph has been purchased for the fourth grade room, a large print of St Anthony for the first grade room, Innocence for the third grade room, Singing Cherubs for the second grade room and a large print of Hermes Praxiteles will be hung in the hall. The works already ordered consist of one large and two small pictures and a cast.

The school board has sent a number of casts for models in drawing to the building. They are very fine and the children are delighted with them.

Some of the money will be used with which to purchase small pictures. A quantity of these will be bought and they will be used for picture studies. The work of different artists will be studied on different days and the children may see that artist's works in the small pictures. These pictures will be mounted in portfolio form.

GENERAL SCHOOL NOTES

Miss McDonald teacher of physical culture and the eighth grade in the Pueblo schools was a visitor at most of the buildings last Friday. She was greatly pleased with the work done in all departments.

The committee consisting of Superintendent Dietrich Principal Mason and Mr Thayer to secure a speaker for the commencement exercises has been endeavoring to secure the services of some gentleman who is well known and a good talker. So far no offers have been made and no one has been secured.

Superintendent Dietrich has a queer specimen on exhibition in his office at the High school. It is a portion of the trunk of a tree in which a horseshoe has become imbedded so firmly that it cannot be moved. Only the two points of the shoe are visible the rest having grown into the tree. Someone probably hung a horseshoe on a nail driven into the tree when it was young.

There will be a meeting of the principals of the city schools Monday evening to consider ways and means for having the children hear President McKinley speak during his visit here. Superintendent Dietrich met with the reception committee one day last week and they are very favorable to the proposition. It is probable that all the children will be brought to the high school building and that the president will address them from his carriage for about ten minutes.

Many applicants for positions in the city schools are making their appearance at the high school these days. There will be no new appointments made until after the teachers' examination which occurs at the high school June 18 and 19. Some of the old teachers have applied for leave of absence and it is probable that they will be allowed a year's vacation. Just who these teachers are has not been announced as yet.

The High School Glee and Mandolin clubs and the grade pupils will furnish music for the superintendents' meeting to be held in this city May 14 15 and 16.

REDMEN

Weetamoo Council No 2 Degree of Pocahontas and Cheyenne Tribe No 44 Improved Order of Red Men will celebrate jointly on Monday evening St Tammany's day. Invitations have been issued and preparations made to celebrate in a fitting manner the day set aside for the patron saint of the Red Man and Pocahontas. There will be a short programme followed by refreshments and dancing.

Cheyenne Tribe No 44 met on Thursday and conferred the degree on two candidates. Arrangements were also completed for the ball to be given tomorrow night at Woodmen hall. The tribe meets every Thursday and visitors are always welcome.

JR. O. U. A. M.

The Junior order held a splendid meeting last Wednesday. The exercises at Ivywild schoolhouse on May 30 will be conducted by this organization. Deputy R. F Smith of Denver is here in the interests of the beneficiary department of this order.

I. O. O. F.

Pikes Peak Lodge No 38 met last Thursday evening and held a [illegible] owing to considerable degree work entertained a large number of visitors from every state. The third degree was conferred on Messrs Lauderback Ritcher and Gibby. One application for admission by initiation was received.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

The Woodmen of the World are congratulating themselves on the fact that their lodge has almost reached the one thousand mark. There are now 964 members and it will not be many more meetings till the coveted 1000 are enrolled. The present Woodmen rooms are totally inadequate to accommodate even a fourth of that number and there is some talk of moving into larger quarters. So far this plan has not developed beyond a nebulous wish but if the lodge continues to increase as it has during the past year a larger place of meeting will be an absolute necessity.

At the W of W meeting last Tuesday 11 were initiated and 12 applications were received and one application by card from Falcon.

The degree team will give a ball May 14 at Woodmen hall.

An Associated Press dispatch from Columbus Ohio says that the committee appointed by the Sovereign camp Woodmen of the World to revise the laws of the order today decided to eliminate from the constitution all the sections relating to the relief and care of the sick and insane.

MASONS

Zabud Council No 3 R and S M assembled on Tuesday night. Three members were elected to take the degree. Two applications were received. The attendance was very good indicating a growing interest in the work.

Tejon Lodge No 104 A F & A M held a special session last Wednesday. Work in the second degree was done. Among the many strangers was a Mason from Hong Kong showing how extensive and universal this society is. The regular meeting will occur next Wednesday.

El Paso Lodge No 13 A F & A M held the stated communication on Friday night. The usual business session was followed by the social pastimes.

Colorado Springs Chapter No 6 R A M will confer the Most Excellent Masters degree Tuesday night. A large attendance is desired.

WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT

El Paso Circle No 310 held their regular meeting Saturday evening. A large number of the members were in attendance. Four candidates were initiated and two applications balloted upon. The circle has been invited by Camp No 5 W of W to attend a memorial service at the First Methodist church June 2. The circle voted to accept the invitation and it is hoped that all the members or as many as can possibly do so will attend.

ROYAL ARCANUM

Eldorado Council No 1114 held an interesting session in their council chamber on Friday evening. The attendance was not very large but all present enjoyed a rational and pleasant time. After the regular work of the council had been completed the drawing for release of assessments for the current month took place. Mr A J Boland drew the winning number and consequently had his assessments remitted for May. This was the first drawing and seemed to give perfect satisfaction. The council has adopted a plan whereby additional incentive is offered to the members to be prompt and punctual in their attendance at the council meetings. All members appearing before the session is called to order are given a number. Under the head of the good of the order the numbers are collected and placed in a hat. They are then drawn out and the fifth number drawn entitles the holder to a [illegible] of his assessments for the current month.

On June [illegible]th the order will celebrate its twenty fourth anniversary. As this comes on Sunday this year it is probable that the local council will attend divine service in a body. The 22nd will be celebrated in a social way and at the meeting held on Friday evening a committee was appointed to arrange for a celebration. The committee has about decided to have a basket picnic to one of the canons in the afternoon and wind up in the evening with a trolley party ride. The affair will be strictly select and by invitation. All who failed to be present at the last meeting missed their chance of having their assessments released for May but if they come to the next two meetings they will [illegible] a chance for the favor for the month of June.

K OF P.

Syracuse Lodge No 111 had a large attendance last Thursday many out of town delegates being present. The first rank was conferred on one candidate.

Relative to the death of Charles Clifford a member of this lodge the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas It has pleased the All Wise Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst our brother Charles T Clifford and

Whereas It is but just and right that we should testify to his many virtues as a man and his companionship as a member of this order be it

Resolved That in the death of Brother Clifford the lodge has lost a true and faithful member the community a peaceful citizen and sadder still the daughter a loving and kind father

Resolved That in the death of Brother Clifford we are reminded of the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death and that we too must soon succumb to the ruthless touch of the grim messenger and be carried to that place from whence no traveler returns

Resolved That we members of Syracuse Lodge No 111 Knights of P thus extend to the daughter and other members of the family our sincere sympathy in this their hour of sorrow and bereavement and commend them to the source of all consolation the God of comfort and hope

Resolved That our charter be draped for thirty days that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge a copy sent to the family and a copy to the newspapers.

Chamberlain, carpenter, of 1[illegible] North Oak street, says: "Derangement of the stomach accompanied by indigestion and constipation affected my kidneys, causing backache and a weakness across the loins. When the attacks were most acute considerable bloating of the body existed. I was struck with the idea after reading an account in Colorado Springs papers about Doan's Kidney Pills that they might be of use if I took a course of the treatment. I procured a box at Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s drug store and from the results obtained from its use I have no [illegible] in [illegible] the claims made for that preparation."

Cascade Ave.

Mr. H. C. Hughes, corner of Cascade and Vermijo streets, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills helped me amazingly and I know they are a reliable remedy for the kidneys. I caught a cold which settled in the small of my back and in the kidneys and caused me so much pain I was quite miserable. Reading an advertisement in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills I sent my son to Jones & Wellington's drug store for a box. The treatment relieved me almost at once and up to date there has been no recurrence of the symptoms."

North Pitkin St.

Mrs. E. I. Kennedy, of 116 North Pitkin street, says: "If every one in Colorado Springs who suffers from kidney complaint, backache or any of the consequences which accompany that far too prevalent annoyance receives as much benefit from the treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills as I, they will not only recommend them to the public but they will advise every one they meet to call at the Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s store, 31 Tejon street, buy a box, take it according to directions and they will be surprised at the results."

North Walnut St.

Mrs. S. Hodge, of 238 N. Walnut street, says: "If the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured at Jones & Wellington's drug store had not relieved rheumatic pain and backache I could not have been induced to continue the treatment, neither would I recommend through our Colorado Springs newspapers the means I employed to bring me relief. Doan's Kidney Pills act as represented."

East Platte Ave.

Mrs. C. Anderson, of 12[illegible] E. Platte avenue, says: "For four or five years I had attacks of backache in [illegible] the [illegible] back of the neck and very often dizzy spells and blurred vision. I knew what caused the trouble [illegible] Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and I procured a box at Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s drug store on North Tejon street. Now I do not claim they made a permanent cure for trouble of [illegible] resists ordinary efforts to dislodge it, but one thing I can conscientiously say, Doan's Kidney Pills gave me incalculable benefit."

North Weber St.

Mr. David DeGraff, of 5[illegible] North Weber street, says: "If I did not find that Doan's Kidney Pills keep kidney complaint in check, if they had not helped me from the first dose I took, I never would have bought some half dozen boxes at the Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s drug store, 31 North Tejon street, neither would I have given two boxes to a friend of mine interested in mining property, nor could I be induced to recommend the preparation."

W. Costilla St.

Mr. E. J. Webber, of 119 W. Costilla street, gives the experience of a boy of eight years of age. He says: "I am not in a position to watch him very closely but from what his mother and aunt who look after him tell me, Doan's Kidney Pills have done him a great amount of good. For three or four years he had symptoms of kidney trouble, complained of his back hurting him and was troubled with urinary weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills have checked this and he does not complain of his back any longer. My wife saw the pills advertised and got a box at Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s store. If my statement of this case will be of any use to you I am pleased to give it."

MILLERS WON IN THE NINTH

Minneapolis Took the Third Game In the Series Yesterday.

GASTON LET DOWN IN EIGHTH

Pitcher's Wild Throw to First and a Two Bagger Brought In Winning Run in the Ninth

About 1,000 enthusiasts, 300 of them from Cripple Creek district, careless of cold, damp, threatening weather conditions, undaunted by distasteful hotel accommodations and such minor matters, gathered at Woodland Park yesterday afternoon and saw the Millionaires go down to defeat for the second time at the hands of the Minneapolis Millers.

Since last Sunday the ball grounds have been wonderfully improved. A new covered grand stand has been erected in right field, the trees, including the one which marked the grand stand of last week, has fallen under the ax, the left field fence has been set back [illegible] feet and the field graded about 2 per cent, although it was still difficult to return a ball from the other end of the grounds. No expressions of discontent were heard concerning the Midland train accommodations yesterday and in the face of defeat it was a happy crowd that returned from Woodland in the early evening, ready to sympathize with the man who was carried to Divide and missed six innings of a good baseball game, ready to laugh with the man who gave instructions to [illegible] partners for the next tunnel.

It was a good game, interesting from the time the first ball was pitched until the last runner crossed the plate. There were only one or two yellow streaks and there were no places where luck counted in deciding which team should win, although had the ground been less soft the fielding of both teams might have been somewhat better.

The Springs team came on the field determined to win and wipe out last Sunday's disgrace. In some measure and in some measure they did. Gaston was in the pitcher's box and Tim Donahue was at his old stand back of the batsman in spite of a healing split hand. From the first the pair was an inspiration and steadying influence upon the rest of the team, although Donahue had hard work to keep the ball in his mitt.

Up to the eighth Gaston did magnificent work, striking out six men and keeping the hits well scattered while the rest of the team gave him almost perfect support. As usual Hemphill was the star performer in the field, setting the crowd wild by taking in two or three apparently safe hits right off the fence.

McHale began the game promptly at 3 o'clock with a sharp grounder to right, but died at second on Hulen's bunt. After Hemphill reached first on balls O'Connell lifted one to center but Congalton fielded the ball home in time to catch Hulen there and then McCarthy went out.

Minneapolis started the scoring, earning two runs on singles by Congalton and Brashear and a hot two bagger by Tannehill.

In the second the Millionaires made one. Donahue singled and advanced to second on Holly's hit to third. McHale's liner was muffed. Donahue scored, King failed to get the throw in, Holly was safe at third and McHale at first but Hulen flew out.

Here Gaston caught the crowd by striking out three Millers in rapid succession.

In the third McCarthy spoiled good chances for a run by interfering with Brashear's throw and the side was out because the umpire saw the play.

From this inning to the eighth the only features were the Springs' steady, strong playing and Hemphill's clever work in the field, Schaefer also making a grand stand stop.

With the score 6 to 3 against them the Millers came to the bat in their half and started in to win. McCredie took first on balls. Congalton hit savagely to left. Brashear singled and McCredie came home. Hemphill fumbled and Congalton and McCredie advanced a base. Tannehill singled through Schaefer, bringing in Congalton, but was caught trying to stretch his hit. Cockman's hit tied the score.

Tannehill gave the fans a glimmer of hope in the ninth by [illegible] two easily thrown balls but Schaefer blackened all hopes by an easy grounder to Parvin.

Then Gaston got rattled, made a poor throw of Belden's hit to him and McCredie's hit to deep center brought in the winning run.

DENVER LOST PITCHERS' BATTLE

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Colo., May [illegible].—Over 1,000 fans braved the threatening weather today only to see the champions again go down in defeat before Jimmy Ryan's aggregation of ball players from St. Paul by the score of 5 to 2. It was a pitchers' battle in which Kneeper for St. Paul came out in the lead, allowing but three singles during the game, while St. Paul made [illegible] hits, two of which were three baggers and one a home run. Denver is very weak at the bat and in the three games just finished have made but fourteen hits.

There was no chance in today's game for the infielders to distinguish themselves as the great majority of put outs were made by the outfielders. St. Paul made one run in the first inning by a hurt, a base on balls and a single. In the second inning Denver made three runs by a single, two bases on balls and an error.

This lead, however, was overcome by St. Paul in the fifth inning. Crooks drew a base on balls and scored on Ryan's home run. In the seventh inning St. Paul added another score by Ryan's three bagger followed by a single.

They made another run in the eighth inning on a three bagger by Brain and an error on the part of Denver's right fielder.

Catcher Wilson of St. Paul had a finger [illegible] hurt in the second inning and retired in favor of Holmes.

THE THREE MUSKETEERS

A Dramatization of Dumas Masterpiece Played by Mr Sanford Dodge the Well Known Romantic Actor and His Superb Company

Mr Sanford Dodge the well known romantic actor supported by a strong company, will play "The Three Musketeers" at the Opera house Wednesday evening

Almost every one has read Dumas great story Three Guardsmen therefore an added interest is taken when old familiar characters are taken from the printed page in book and real live people are offered up in their stead Who is not willing to live over again in a realistic manner the wild [illegible] of harebrain Gascon D Artagnan that mad wild [illegible] of gayety, mixture of fighting blood chivalrous honor wild animal and pretty sentiment. Then we have the moody Athos [illegible] the blustering Porthos with his many adventures and the bewitching Constance who furnishes a pretty love sentiment with our noble Gascon

Pitted against these we have our Lord Richelieu who is a familiar picture on the American stage and has been played by all the great actors

Lady DeWinter furnishes a strong picture of a woman s scorn seeking for vengeance and putting aside her own offspring rather than forgo that revenge

There are of course many other pleasing characters including Anne of Austria Buckingham Boniface etc the whole making up a most romantic play Mr Sanford Dodge who plays D Artagnan has given long and careful study to the part and possesses that magnetism and youthful buoyance, so necessary in the portrayal of it and is being everywhere accorded the highest praise by the press and public

Mr Dodge has surrounded himself with a company of artists and each and every character has been given the most careful attention and study consequently this performance as given by the Sanford Dodge company is a dramatic gem and should be welcomed by every one
